NEW PHASE IN THE CANVASS.

For several days past we have presented for the consideration of our Douglas friends a variety of reasons why they ought to vote for LINCOLN. This morning we invite their attention to an article on the inside pages inculcating the same lesson, copied from the St. Paul Pioneer and Democrat, for many years the leading organ of Mr. DOUGLAS in Minnesota; also, to a telegraphic dispatch setting forth the reasons which have induced STEPHENS, of Georgia, to abandon DOUGLAS and come into the support of BRECKINRIDGE, at the last hour. We can say nothing that would add to the force of the Pioneer and Democrat's advice to its political friends, nor could anything more forcibly illustrate the correctness of its position than this last move of STEPHENS of Georgia. Will those of our Douglas friends who honestly prefer Freedom to Slavery read and ponder the matters to which we refer?

DEVICE OF THE SORE-HEADS.

The sore-heads in this county have issued a circular—anonymous, of course—in which Mr. Hesing, Republican candidate for Sheriff, and W. L. Church, Republican candidate for Clerk, are abused in lying generalities. The writer did well to withhold his name from his production; and we do not wonder that the men who hand the thing around, do so secretly. Even the sore-heads must be ashamed of a charge like this. Speaking of the "Court House clique," they say:

"These have an organized club, and a system of operation by which they invariably control our conventions, and thus assume the monstrous position of self-constituted dictators to the party, placing whoever they please on our county ticket, and then saying to the Republican voters, you must support these men (this ticket), and it has become notorious that no man's name, however worthy he may be, can be placed on a ticket, unless that name has been selected by this corrupt junta of six or eight men in the city of Chicago, unless the aspirant for office is able to, and does pay, to this infernal club, money, in which case, the man who pays the most to these hucksters of the offices of the people is sure to win; while the POOR AND WORTHY MAN is sure to be rejected."

Men who insert such stuff, and men who believe it after it is inserted, should at once join the party that swears that Douglas is a patriot and statesman. They do not belong in the Republican organization. It is too narrow to occupy credulity like theirs.

Let the three dozen and three sore-heads who didn't get nominated for Sheriff or Clerk or Coroner or member of the Legislature, or who see no chance of clutching the deputyships and clerkships which they selected for themselves, go ahead. This is as good a time as any that they will ever see to separate themselves from the party; and we know of no harm they can do by going. Men who are not true in a fight like this, cannot be depended upon hereafter. It used to be the maxim of parties, "Shoot the deserters;" but in this case, not even figurative shooting is necessary. The sore-heads, like pigs swimming up stream, are cutting their own throats.

The Geneseo Meeting.

We have never sought to convey a false impression relative to the numbers in attendance at any of the Republican meetings of the country, nor have we in any instance done so knowingly. In regard to the meeting at Geneseo on the 26th inst., we were led into an error of statement by a special telegraphic dispatch, as we learn from a gentleman who was present. The number at the meeting should have been stated at two thousand. We presume it was so intended by the gentleman who sent the dispatch; but in the hurry of writing he may have inadvertently added an additional cypher without being cognizant of so doing, or, if written correctly, the operator may have been unintentionally misled.

Republican Meetings this Week.

Meetings will be held this week as follows:

NORTH SIDE.

At Valentine Ruger's, on Green Bay street, Tuesday evening, Oct. 30th.

At the Republican Head Quarters, No. 147 North Clark street, Wednesday evening, Oct. 31st.

WEST SIDE.

At West Market Hall on Wednesday evening, Oct. 31st.

The above meetings will be addressed by Hon. S. M. Wilson, A. C. Hesing, L. Brentano, Esq., and other eminent speakers.

SOUTH SIDE.

At Peter Sapp's, corner of South Clark and Old streets, Monday evening, Oct. 29th.

At Ulich's Hotel on Wednesday evening, Oct. 31st.

At Schall's, No. 202 South Wells street, Wednesday evening, Oct. 31st.

Hon. I. N. Arnold, Hon. W. H. Brown, Hon. J. Young Scammon, L. Brentano and A. C. Hesing, Esqrs., some or all of whom, with other eminent speakers, will address the above meetings.

This is the last week before the election.

Republicans! WIDE AWAKE is the word.

Let every man do his duty!

☞ The Know Nothing, Disunion, and Squatterite Fusion Committee, of New York, sent to Pennsylvania $80,000 just previous to election, and the return they got for their money was 32,000 Republican majority.

The same committee have sent $100,000 to the rural districts of Central and Western New York. Without doubt the result will be about a vote for each dollar in favor of Old Abe. The majority in the rural districts will just about balance the number of dollars sent by the Fusionists. The money was raised by assessing the dry goods houses. Some yielded with cheerfulness; others demurred, but were brought to their milk by being threatened with being put into the black list of unconstitutional houses. The poor cravens came down with the dust to the black mailers. When will the breed of doughfaces cease to exist?

Hon. J. N. Doolittle's Appointments.

Hon. J. N. Doolittle of Wisconsin will address the people of Illinois, on political topics, at the following times and places:

Chicago (with Mr. Hale) ... October 30
Peoria, Peoria county ... do. 30

Wm. P. Kellogg's Appointments.

Wm. P. Kellogg will address the people as follows:

Rochester, Peoria Co., Monday afternoon, October 29.
Akron, Peoria Co., Monday evening, Oct. 29.
Abingdon, Knox Co., Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 30.
Geneseo, Henry Co., Thursday, Nov. 1.
Hazel Grove, Fulton Co., Saturday afternoon, Nov. 3.
Vermont, Fulton Co., Saturday evening, Nov. 3.
Ipavia, Fulton Co., Monday, November 5th, at 2 o'clock P. M.
Bernadotte, Fulton Co., Monday, November 5th, in the evening at 7½ o'clock.

Carl Schurz's Wisconsin Appointments.

Thursday, Nov. 1, at 11 o'clock A. M., Stuber's Tavern, Greenfield.
Thursday, Nov. 1, at 3 o'clock P. M., Wauwatosa Village.
Friday, Nov. 2, at 1 o'clock P. M., Buckhorn Tavern, on Kilbourn Road.
Friday, Nov. 2, at 8 o'clock P. M., Melm's Garden, Milwaukee.
Saturday, Nov. 3, at 1 o'clock P. M., Centre of Granville.
Saturday, Nov. 3, at 8 o'clock P. M., Wigwam, Milwaukee.
Monday, Nov. 5, at 1 o'clock P. M., Hartman's, in the Town of Milwaukee.
Monday, Nov. 5, Evening, Ward-Meetings, Milwaukee.

The meetings in the townships will, if the weather permits, be held in the open air. Mr. Schurz will speak in German and English. The Republicans in the several townships are requested to see that all the voters have notice of the meetings.

AN ERROR OF THE TYPES.—In the advertisement of Seeding Machines an annoying error of a single word changes the meaning of the advertiser. The word "he" should read "I," and is so corrected to-day. Mr. Brown says, "I began to use, &c.," and the correction is an important one. Printers must mind their "I's."

HON. SAM. GALLOWAY AT THE WIGWAM.

Address by Hon. G. N. Kennedy.

The meeting on Saturday was a splendid success. The campaign spirit glows more warmly as the campaign nears its end. One of the most effective speeches of the season was delivered by Hon. Sam. Galloway, at the Wigwam, who was escorted thither by a delegation of the Wide Awakes.

As soon as he commenced speaking he held the audience in willing bondage. Every eye was upturned toward him, every ear hung upon his words. The enthusiastic crowd could not be controlled as the burning sentences rolled from his lips; shout following on shout as their hearts kindled under his warm utterances.

Before the arrival of Mr. Galloway, the audience was addressed in an effective, sustained speech by Hon. G. N. Kennedy, of New York.

He said that a no less clearly marked, defined change has passed over the surface and appearance of our Western country, within twenty years, than upon the political parties and issues.

The old Whig party, opposed by slavery, was conquered by it. The old Democratic party, courting its insidious embraces, fell by its support. The Republican party, springing from their ruins, born from a necessity, already finds its home in fifteen free States, and is extending its grasp into six slave States, Samson-like, feeling for the pillars of American slavery.

The speaker pointed out the marked influence of intelligence, or the want of it, among the people, as indicated by the strength of the Republican vote in localities.

The question whether slavery shall be admitted into the Territories involves that other question whether they shall be the home of free intelligence, or shall be cursed with the sweat of unrequited toil. A poor, honest, crazed man struck terror into the heart of Virginia with a Falstaff corps of eighteen followers. An insurrection! Yes, an insurrection which the women or school boys of any district in Illinois would have quelled in an hour.

What would the fathers of our country have said to the doctrine upheld by Breckinridge, that the flag of our Union carries slavery in its folds wherever it floats. So careful were those wise men in framing the Constitution, that should our nation ever crumble to decay, no antiquarian of the coming centuries could tell, by perusing its provisions, that such a blot as slavery ever stained the institutions of the United States.

Douglas' "great principle," that the Territories must control their own institutions, and that Congress has no right to legislate for them, is neither original with him, in keeping with all previous legislation on the subject, or sensible and sound in itself. The Territories are the children of the Union, governed and educated by it till they are able to fulfill the duties of their manhood.

Judge Douglas, when the respectful petition for relief of a Territory was presented for relief, turned his back upon his violated child, Kansas, and held up with gratulation to the startled gaze of his Northern brethren the bloody trophies of that child, dishonored.

But the time for these doctrines has gone by. A new power has arisen. They see in every Wide Awake torch a bayonet pointed at the heart of slavery. Dissolution! Talk of dissolution by the South. They are unable to do it. Were a Chinese wall built on Mason and Dixon's line, and none permitted to cross for twenty years, there would be seen poor unfortunates in search of information under difficulties, climbing over, and seeing the richness and fertility of the free States, and casting one glance back at the abyss they had left, they would exclaim, "My God, can these dry bones live?"

Hon. Sam. Galloway, of Ohio, being introduced, said: "I have heard of this Wigwam before by the hearing of the ears, but now mine eyes have seen it. The Runneymede of Republicanism, it is the birthplace of the great movement now sweeping the country. I can speak for Ohio, from which you have already heard. That which has already been done is but a foretaste of the feast in the news to be heard from there in the intelligence of the Sixth of November.

Addressing the Democrats he extended a warm invitation to them to return to the doctrines founded in the early days, the doctrines answering to their better instincts and purer emotions; and exhorted them not to be led away and misguided by demagogues, having no principle but self in their hearts, and no desires but for their own advancement.

The Bell Everett party have good nominees who, could they be elected, would doubtless administer the government creditably. But their platform is not broad enough for a Republican to stand upon. We all love the constitution, revere it, and regard it as the chart of our course. Our Republican mission is to call every one back to the early principles of our Union, and to preserve the blessings of liberty to the latest generation. Why cannot you go with us? Are you Henry Clay Whigs? So are we more. We but carry out the principles he everywhere laid down.

We yield to none in our devotion to enforcement of law. Let every law be enforced, according to the provisions of the Constitution as interpreted by the Fathers of the Republic. But there are those who do not believe in enforcing law. A few days since a Methodist minister, for preaching from his text in Isaiah and proclaiming its principles, was driven from his pulpit by a mob, placed in bondage and then hung, as an illustration of obedience to law.

In Farquhar county, Virginia, a Lincoln pole was erected in opposition to threats. They could not bear the liberty-loving pole, and it was cut down. The Executive was appealed to, but could not give aid—all to illustrate the beauty of American Freedom, and obedience to law.

A year ago, a noble lady, striving to teach some little nigger the way to his eternal home, was fined therefor seventy-five dollars.

And these are the kind of men—these, who do this kind of thing—who come from the South to teach us devotion to Constitutional principles. Mr. Yancey, unmolested, is now preaching all over our Northern States the idea that spreading niggers over the country is the great end of civilization. But, if a man goes down South with a New York Tribune in his pocket, or a Bible with a leaf turned down at the 56th chapter of Isaiah, he is tarred and feathered, if not hung up, to teach him what Southern Constitutional liberty means.

How long shall our country be so cursed? When shall we rid of this damnation, this eternal nigger crammed down our throats? Who of the patriots revered in our history would recognize in these acts of the South that free Union of States for which they gave their sacred blood for a baptism?

"Is this the land our fathers loved—
The freedom which they fought to win?
Is this the soil they trod upon?
Are these the graves they slumber in?
Are we the sons by whom are borne
The mantles which the dead have worn?
And shall we crouch above the graves,
With craven soul and fettered life,
Yoked in with marked and branded slaves,
And tremble at the master's whip?
No! by these enlarging souls, which burst
The bands and fetters round them set—
By the free pilgrim spirit nursed
Within our inmost bosoms yet—
By all above, around, below,
Be ours the indignant answer, No!"

Now, you know that the Democratic party, about four years ago were much disposed to mourn about the perpetuity of this Union. But this same question of slavery which they attempted to settle has settled them.

The Breckinridge party, whose banner has no bright gleams to which a man can turn a hoping heart have made a mistake in planting that banner in America instead of Africa. They are an open foe. That much should be said for them. They avow their principles manfully. They are your antagonists. But the time is at hand for you to become their executors, and you will be called upon to administer upon their assets, though I do not think enough will be found to pay the expenses of the funeral.

I wish the Douglas party were as open and candid foes. They say that the Constitution carries slavery into the Territories, and then they say that in some way, they know not how, it shall be carried out again. But what has their Apostle, Judge Douglas, said about this? On the 2d of July, 1856, in the discussion on the "Toombs' Bill," he used the following language: "If the Constitution carries slavery there, let it go, and no power on earth can take it away."

He repeated it even more offensively in the Senate, on the 22d of February, 1859, in a debate with Jeff. Davis, when he said:

"I do not put Slavery on a different footing from other property. I recognized it as property under what is understood to be the decision of the Supreme Court. I argue that the owner of slaves HAS THE SAME RIGHT TO REMOVE TO THE TERRITORIES AND CARRY HIS SLAVE PROPERTY WITH HIM AS THE OWNER OF ANY OTHER SPECIES OF PROPERTY."

And again, "THERE IS JUST AS MUCH OBLIGATION ON THE PART OF THE TERRITORIAL LEGISLATURE TO PROTECT SLAVES AS EVERY OTHER SPECIES OF PROPERTY, AS THERE IS TO PROTECT HORSES, CATTLE, DRY GOODS, LIQUORS, &c."

But in his Harper's Magazine treatise he speaks of "unfriendly legislation" getting it out.

He knows that if carried there by the Constitution, that that is supreme over any power professed by any territorial legislature. He knows this to be the well settled law of the land. But he had to meet the wants and the aspirations of some free Northerners, and he offers them this sop. He dare not give them a slave code, for he knew they would scorn both the gift and the giver. The only nucleus around which hope can gather that he offers you is this unfriendly legislation. The phrase means nothing but that slavery is to be teased out; but he uses it because it because it sounds like something, and humbugs the people.

The trouble with Judge Douglas is that he has no profound convictions upon the subject of freedom or the subject of slavery. What an epitaph to be written on the tomb of an American statesman, such as he professes to be—"Here lie the remains of a professed descendant of Thomas Jefferson, whose feeling was—'I don't care whether slavery is voted up or voted down.'"

He don't care, when the destinies of a people hang in the scale, and are being settled. He don't care whether the enlarging blessings of freedom bless our land, or its glorious banner become the fustian rag that waves its folds over a band of slaves.

What is our Republican doctrine? Go back to the old fathers and read the old record of those tried and trusted men. These say to the Democrats who have wandered away, "Return from your backslidings; seek again the old paths." Our platform is but the old Jeffersonian platform reaffirmed. If we are wrong, then the framers of our institutions were wrong. Do you ask for our principles? See them illustrated in the abounding resources of of Illinois or Ohio, and then look at Kentucky, thirty years older. Who has made this difference? It is that over this Northwestern Territory the ordinance of '87 has thrown its protecting mantle of freedom.

Just as the Lord placed the cherubim and the flaming sword at the garden of Eden to keep the devil out. The difference is that the devil got into Eden once, and thank God, the devil of slavery never polluted our soil. Governor Wise accurately described the state of the South in a speech delivered at Alexandria, Va., in an address made by him in 1855, from which I read an extract:

"You have the line of the Alleghany, that beautiful blue ridge which stands placed there by the Almighty not to obstruct the way of the people to market, but placed there in the very bounty of Providence to milk the clouds, to make the sweet springs which are the sources of your rivers. And at the head of every stream is the waterfall murmuring the very music of your power. And yet commerce has long ago spread her sails and sailed away from you; you have not, as yet, dug more than coal enough to warm yourselves at your own hearths; you have set no tilt hammer of Vulcan to strike blows worthy of the gods in the iron foundries. You have not yet spun more than course cotton enough, in the way of manufacture, to clothe your own slaves. You have had no commerce, no mining, no manufactures. You have relied alone on the single power of agriculture; and such agriculture! Your sedge patches outshine the sun. Your inattention to your only source of wealth has seared the very bosom of mother earth. Instead of having to feed cattle on a thousand hills, you have to chase the stump-tailed steer through the sedge patches to procure a tough beef-steak.

You all own plenty of land, but it is poverty added to poverty, poor land added to poor land, and nothing added to nothing. While the owner is talking politics at Richmond, or in Congress, or spending the summer at the White Springs, the lands grow poorer and poorer, and this soon brings land, negroes and all under the hammer. You have the owners skinning the negroes, and the negroes skinning the land, until all grow poor."

Would any of you have these advantages? You can have them by the going. I never expect to go to the Territories. My grave is already chosen. But I wish to secure for my children and grand-children all the blessings their father and grand-father had before them. We should be as wise for the generations to follow as the Fathers were in regard to us.

Ah, my Democratic friends; when the hour of sober second thought comes, you will be sorry at what you have swallowed on this subject.

Is it constitutional to do this, do you say? Who were wise, the fathers, or the young men of our day, about thirty-three years of age and about three years out of a lawyer's office. The question for you is, will you follow these young men or the old men? The great stars, lit up by the Providence of God, or those Will o' the wisps, deceiving and being deceived.

Cass was the original inventor of the idea of squatter sovereignty. He gave birth to it. The rickety infant languished, and languishing, died. Cass buried it. Douglas took off the clods, opened the coffin and resurrected the body, by breathing not divine life, but his own life into it.

You hear about Popular Sovereignty, but it has never been seen. You have had intervention but no non-intervention; when it was tried in Kansas, Douglas had no sympathy with her suffering sons. When Republicans get the power, beautifully robed in free garments, Kansas will come in through the doors they hold wide open for her admission.

And Douglas says—said in his late peregrinations after his mother—Has not popular sovereignty worked out freedom in Kansas? As well might apostate Judas, lifting up his head from perdition, say, See what blessedness of christianity I have conferred by denying and crucifying my Lord. Look at his speech in the Senate, when Jeff. Davis pressed him. Ah! what a humiliating spectacle he presented when he bowed the knee to Jeff. Davis, as the representative of the slave oligarchy, and moaned his despair at their feet. Oh! said he, my masters! my masters! Who has done your work so well, so faithfully, so long as I? Never have you had a more cringing, sycophantic servant than I. See what I have done. Through my means you have more slave territory than you ever asked for. I have blinded my Northern supporters, and done this for you. I know of nothing to form a parallel to it but the answer of Balaam's ass, when smarting under the rod of its master: "What have I done unto thee that thou hast smitten me? Am not I not thine ass, upon which thou hast ridden ever since I was thine unto this day?"

Many men say, no doubt the Republicans are right, but we fear a dissolution of this glorious Union.

They cannot dissolve it, from their very inability to do so. We are the only protection they have against their niggers. The minute they dissolve, these would shoulder a musket and manage their own domestic institutions in their own way. They never will be permitted to carry out their vapid, idle threats. We intend to inaugurate a second General Jackson, in the stern, moral integrity of his purposes.

The dangling heels, if need be, of half a dozen of those who have been going through with their ground and lofty disunion tumbling would strike awe into all the chivalry. If you remember, after Haman was hung, not another hanging took place in all Israel for one hundred and fifty years.

The old cry of social nigger equality is pretty well used up. It is now understood who are the men who make the negroes their social equal!

The colored Mulatto streams running over our land have their bubbling fountains in the South. Did you ever see, Brother Democrat, a Virginia plantation? If you have, you have seen Jacob's idea of the ring-streaked and the speckled. And these men, come from their great brothel houses, reeking with colored concubinage, and stick their dirty noses into decent men's faces in the North and cry, Nigger! Nigger! Negro equality! I tell you in these Mulattoes runs the best blood of the Southern chivalry. They are their brothers by blood; we, by sympathy. That is the difference.

But the day of our redemption draweth nigh. Soon will come the swelling voice of the people, carrying for the burthen of its chorus the magic words that have broken our chains, "Lincoln and Liberty." Liberty has triumphed and the people are free. On the night of the sixth of November will the cry go forth proclaiming the year of jubilee.—"Liberty throughout all the land—to all the inhabitants thereof."

THE CITY.

MILLINERY.—The fall trade in Millinery at Wholesale and Retail is well represented at the extensive establishment of H. W. Wetherell, No. 54 Lake street. Miss Williams, known to all our fashionables shoppers, presides in the Retail rooms.

PIONEER WIDE AWAKE CLUB. THEIR PROMENADE CONCERT.—In compliance with an invitation very numerously signed, the Chicago Wideawake Club, give a repetition of their Concert on this Monday evening at their Hall "All promenade," and give the boys a bumper.

THE BADGES.—The police are out and after the licentiate dray and express drivers, whose badges are not "according to Gunter." In Saturday's Police Court, Benjamin Munn and Thomas Payne were fined $10 each, for driving their drays without badges.

POLICEMAN NO. 19.—Policeman No. 19 dismissed from the force for neglect of duty, is Mr. Myers, and not Mr. Betts, as stated in our last issue. J. B. Betts on last month's pay roll was No. 19, which caused the mistake, that does an injustice to Mr. B., one of the best officers on the police force.

PICKING POCKETS.—Several travellers who came into the city last week from different lines of road centering here, report themselves the losers by the dexterity of light fingered operators. On one of the Michigan Central trains several passengers had their pockets picked. A lady had her portmonnaie stolen, on Wells street bridge, on Friday afternoon.

NORRIS & HYDE, No. 100 Dearborn st. are receiving new books every day. Among those received lately are "Miss Gilbert's Career over the Cliffs," by Charlotte Chanter; "Brief Biographies," by Samuel Smiles, author of "Self-Help," &c.; "People," by Capt. Mayne Reide; "Household of Bouverie," &c., &c. They have also all the magazines for November on their counter, and a fine lithograph of Garibaldi.

THE SOCIAL OF SOCIETY NORA.—The Society Nora will give a social party at the German Hall, corner of Indiana and North Wells street, October 29th. All those who desire a very pleasant time are invited to attend. As the name may seem strange to some of our native born readers, it is desirable to state that the Society Nora is a Norwegian Association, organized for the purpose of obtaining a Library and Reading Room,—having adopted a Constitution and Bye-Laws similar to the Young Men's Association of the city of Chicago.

HON. WILLIAM B. EGAN.

Many hearts were saddened on Saturday by the intelligence that a citizen, old and well esteemed in this community, Hon. Wm. B. Egan, expired at his residence in the West Division, just at daybreak. For some time past his failing health had warned his friends and family that the period was not distant when the event feared must take place, but it was not until two weeks since that such symptoms supervened as to give immediate cause for apprehension. Under this later and most violent attack, of dropsy, complicated with other affections of long standing, it was early seen by his attendant physician, Dr. N. S. Davis, that his condition was critical, even if it allowed a gleam of hope. The family were so informed, and the sufferer himself, who received the intelligence calmly and in the full possession of his mental powers, prepared himself for those last offices of parting life. His will was drawn some ten days since and deposited in the keeping of Hon. F. A. Hoffman.

The medical attendants, Drs. Davis, and Johnson, vied with the family and warm-hearted friends in ministrations upon the last hours of Dr. Egan, whose descent toward the grave from the nature of his disease was quiet and gradual, and with mental faculties unclouded. His religious adviser and counsellor, Rev. Dr. Kelly, of the Episcopal Church, was with him much of the time, in long and free conversation upon religious topics. On Thursday evening this clergyman introduced the service of the Episcopal Church, the entire family being present, its dying head joining in the responses, thus constituting the scene memorably affecting and impressive. Dr. Egan was at one time of his life in the connection of the Presbyterian Church, but of later years, though ever respectful and never scoffing, has been little identified with religious matters. His interesting family are regular worshippers at the Church of the Atonement, Episcopal, on West Washington street.

From the time of the above scene on Thursday evening, Dr. Egan sank gradually and almost imperceptibly. He passed Friday night in a very quiet and apparently painless sleep, from which his death was not immediately anticipated by the anxious watchers that hung noiseless about the couch. As the night waned, however, the respiration of the sleeper grew fainter, and just as the sun was rising, it was seen that no breath came from the parted lips. His spirit had passed away so quietly that none marked the struggle, and stood before its Maker, the Judge of all.

The bereaved family consists of a wife and four children, two sons and two daughters, the youngest in her teens. The place of interment of the honored remains will be a lot in the Old City Cemetery on North Clark street, within the limits of the city of Dr. Egan's adoption and pride, within the sound of the murmur of the waves of our noble lake, and in that city of the dead where sleep so many, who, one by one departing hence have left in our community places never to be filled, of those identified with our earliest history and associated with our choicest means of progress.

Thus has passed away one who has long borne a leading part in the business and the social gatherings of the city. The position he has occupied, as well as the more prominent traits of his character, make it proper that we should give some of the more important events in his history.

Dr. Egan was born at Killarney, in the county Kerry, Ireland, on the 28th of September, 1808. His father belonged to one of the old and leading families of Ireland, and was by profession a classical teacher. So thoroughly was he devoted to his profession, that it is said he could repeat the twenty-four books of Homer's Illiad. Dr. Egan inherited his father's love for classical literature, which, had his life not been identified with a young, growing city, might have given him an honorable position in the higher walks of learning. Dr. Egan was a second cousin to Daniel O'Connell—O'Connell's grandmother and the Doctor's grandfather being brother and sister. The Doctor was on terms of intimacy with the great Irish Reformer.

At quite an early age Dr. Egan was bound as a student to Dr. McGuire, surgeon in the colleries of Lancashire. He afterwards attended medical lectures at the Lying-in Hospital of Dublin, but being unable from want of funds to complete his education, he determined to seek his fortune in the New World, and at the age of eighteen landed at Quebec in the fall of 1826. He spent most of the following winter engaged as a private classical teacher in Montreal. In the spring of '27 he went to Charlottesville, Va., and was employed as assistant teacher in the grammar school of the University, continuing at the same time his medical studies. Here he remained for about eighteen months, and had the privilege of seeing and becoming acquainted with Madison, Chief Justice Marshall and some of the other leading men in our national history.

Resigning his post at Charlottesville, he attended lectures at the Rutger's Medical School of New York, and was licensed as a physician by the New Jersey Medical Board in the spring of 1830, and practiced in Newark for about a year. He then removed to New York and was married about the middle of January, 1832, to Miss Emeline M. Babbatt of that city. No event of his life had a more happy and controlling influence upon his future history.

He remained in New York during the cholera season of 1832, practising very successfully with Prof. McNiven and Dr. Busche, both distinguished Irish physicians. In the fall of that year he was induced by a brother who lived in Mississippi to remove to that State, where he originated the town of Grand Gulf, on the Mississippi River.

Driven away from Mississippi by sickness, both of himself and wife, he started for New York, but the boat on which he was going up the Ohio was snagged near Evansville, Indiana. To relieve the tedium of delay, he visited Vincennes, where he met an army officer, who was buying horses for Gen. Scott's army, then posted at Chicago. The officer gave so glowing an account of the town, that Dr. Egan concluded to take it in his route to New York. He arrived here in the fall of 1833. The county then extended to Peoria and there were in all about four hundred inhabitants in it. Pleased with the prospects of the place, Dr. Egan located on the North Side and commenced the practice of his profession. There were then scarcely any houses upon the South Side, and the Garrison was the main stay of the town.

The Doctor's first real-estate purchase was the Tremont House corner, 80 feet on Lake by 180 on Dearborn, from Gen. John B. Beaubien for five hundred dollars cash and two hundred dollars in medical attendance. He sold it in 1836 for $25,000, but was obliged to take it back after the first payment, and he sold it afterwards for $9,000.

On the 4th of July, 1836, ground was broken at Bridgeport for the Illinois and Michigan Canal. Judge Smith read the Declaration of Independence, and Dr. Egan delivered the oration; thus connecting his name for all time with this great work.

In the fall of 1837 Dr. Egan was obliged, on account of ill health, to go to Virginia, where he spent the winter. Not recovering, he went to Europe and placed himself under the care of Sir Benjamin Brodie, under whose treatment he was entirely cured. In the fall of 1839 he returned to Chicago, with only three dollars in his pocket, and at once applied himself with his marked energy to the practice of his profession. He made stated visits along the line of the canal, then in process of construction between Chicago and Athens, and often, when the day closed, he found himself with forty dollars in his pocket, the fruit of the day's labor. Between that time and 1842 real estate was cheap, and the Doctor put all the money and credit he could command in his favorite investment.

About this time perhaps the majority of the leading men of the city were oppressed with a load of debt from which there seemed to be no hope of escape. A large amount of real estate had been bought at the canal sales previous to the crash of 1836-7 at high prices; some of the payments had been made, but it seemed utterly impossible to make the others. A consultation was had and it was agreed that Dr. Egan should attend the Legislature during the winter of 1840-1, and procure the passage of a law directing the lots to be appraised at what they were then worth, and enacting that the payments that had been made should be applied as far as they went towards payment for the lots at their appraised value. By the most persevering industry, and the free use of all those means which no lobby member could apply better than Dr. Egan, the law was passed, and by it very nearly four hundred thousand dollars was virtually deducted from the indebtedness of Chicago. To the Doctor's successful efforts, some of our wealthiest citizens owe their fortunes. The immediate effect upon his own pocket was by no means flattering. When he went to Springfield a purse of a hundred dollars was made up for him, and more was promised as occasion might require. The promise was forgotten; but bent on accomplishing his important mission he borrowed eight hundred dollars from Geo. Smith, and about half as much more from Col. Taylor, besides spending his time for the winter. A few months after he came home, he was obliged to sell the Matteson house corner to pay the cannie Scotchman, and the corner of State and Madison streets went to pay Colonel Taylor These lots would now go far towards making a handsome fortune. That is the kind of reward which many others besides Dr. Egan have received for rendering important services to their fellow citizens.

Dr. Egan's real estate operations have been immense. Some of them were very fortunate. For instance, one half of the thirty acres extending from State street to the lake, now owned by Geo. Smith, was bought by Dr. Egan for a small sum, and he sold it to Smith for $47,000 cash. True, the last purchaser made the best bargain, for it is now worth three or four times that sum. But the Doctor's element was to operate, considering that one of the imperative duties of his profession.

The three and a half acres which constitute his elegant home, stand in the West West division of the city, and was purchased in 1846 for thirty dollars per acre. He built on it and commenced improving it in 1847. Our citizens have been accustomed to point to it with pride as showing what good taste and cultivation can in a few years accomplish in the suburbs of the city. His farm, Egandale, four miles south of the city, consists of about one hundred and eighty-two acres. It was purchased at the canal sales at from ten to a hundred dollars per acre. He commenced improving it in the spring of 1855, and the progress he has made in draining unsightly sloughs and rendering them, with the sand ridges which divide them, objects of surpassing beauty, is truly amazing.

Dr. Egan was for a time Recorder of the county, and he served a term in the Legislature, in the lower House if we mistake not, during the winter of 1833-4.

That Dr. Egan had faults, need not be denied; but "speak only good of the dead" is a motto that it were well for all to adopt. He was a man of noble form and commanding presence, and his open, cheerful countenance was a true index of the generous nature that ruled within. His classical tastes and attainments were of a high order. His exuberant social qualities, his ready, sparkling wit, keen perception and graphic delineation of the ludicrous, made him a most agreeable companion and a welcome guest at all the public social gatherings of the city. His dinner speeches will long be remembered as among the most happy and appropriate specimens of that kind of popular eloquence. He never failed to "bring down the house."

Dr. Egan was one of the most industrious and energetic of men. He was never idle. True, he spent considerable time in social converse with his friends, but a close observer would seldom fail to discover that he had some definite and perhaps very important object to accomplish. Of his tireless industry and his correct and highly cultivated horticultural taste, his homestead on Van Buren street and his farm at Egandale bear the most pleasing evidence. Those splendid pines and graceful balsams and firs will long be living monuments to his memory; and the breezes of many a May morning and the songs of the robins that make their home amid the evergreens which his own hands have planted, will mingle in a sweet, joyous requiem. We point our wealthy citizens to Dr. Egan's homestead and to Egandale as beautiful creations of his genius well worthy of their imitation. How much better to incur generous expenditure to adorn the city and its suburbs than to hoard up wealth for reckless heirs to squander. While Dr. Egan's family have an ample provision of earthly comforts, his children have a much richer inheritance in the memory of his virtues and the admiration of those beautiful objects which his own hands have created. His former associates will long remember him as a warm-hearted, generous friend—as one of the noblest specimens of the "fine old Irish gentleman." Requiescat in pace.

INQUESTS.

THE ELLIS CASE.—An inquest was held on Saturday on the remains of the wife of Henry Ellis, an Irishman, whose death was referred to in our last issue. The examination developed no other facts than those indicated in our previous account. The woman died from the effects of want and exposure, and total lack of attention. The children it was believed would be placed in the Catholic Orphan Asylum.

THE LADY ELGIN DISASTER—MORE INQUESTS.—Coroner James held an inquest on Saturday, at the Dead House in the City Cemetery, upon the remains of several victims of the Lady Elgin disaster, as follows; the numbers being those of the Coroner's List, which includes all upon whom inquests have been held here. The inquests held at Milwaukee, Racine and other points are not included in this numbering:

No. 158—Body of an unknown man, found at Calumet Light House; five feet ten inches in height; stout built; no coat or vest; cotton shirt with linen bosom; cotton flannel undershirt; black pants with red stripe; cotton flannel drawers; India rubber braces; grey socks; brown pocket handkerchief with white spots; white patent leather sword hilt round the body; found on the body a small silver watch with silver chain; iron pocket comb; port monnaie, containing Lady Elgin excursion ticket, and 12 cents in change. Also a memorandum as follows: "Fr. Schambake, Captain of the Washington Light Cavalry, Chicago, Ill."

No. 159—Body of an unknown man, found near the American Car Works; about five feet eight inches high; entirely destitute of clothing.

No. 160—Body of an unknown woman, found about five miles north east of the city, by the schooner Crusader; five feet six inches high; brown calico dress with small figures; steel hoop skirt; cotton skirt with four tucks; cotton skirt quilted at the bottom; grey woolen hose; two rings, one marked "H. M. B." or "H. M. R."

No. 161—Body of an unknown woman, found near the Michigan Central Depot; about five feet six inches high; light muslin dress, with small red and yellow diamond figures; pink silk band round the waist; dress open in front; three cotton skirts; cameo breast pin with ladies' bust.

No. 162—Body of an unknown boy, found near the Illinois Central Round House, in a frightful state of decomposition, the head being entirely gone with the exception of a part of the skull; the body was about four feet eight inches in height; entirely destitute of clothing, except a portion of one white stocking and a heavy calf-skin shoe; about twelve or fourteen years of age.

No. 163—The body of a man found on the beach 2½ miles south of Hyde Park; 5 feet 10 inches high, military coat, green, with blue facings, black pants with blue stripe down the side, right leg bandaged tight from the knee up to mid-thigh, cotton shirt with linen bosom, gray under shirt, black silk neck tie, gingham pocket handkerchief, congress gaiters, gray socks, gold ring on the little finger of left hand.

No. 164—Body of a man found on the beach one mile and a half north of Calumet; about 5 feet 8 inches high, no coat, vest, steel mixed cassimere pants, merino under shirt, white cotton socks with red stripe on top, merino drawers, $7 in currency, $2.70 in change, supposed to be the body of C. Lacy, saloon keeper on the Lady Elgin.

No. 165—Body of a woman, found about half a mile south of the Hyde Park House; about 5 feet 3 inches high, ribbed black silk dress, stays, cotton chemise, steel hooped skirt, cotton drawers, open worked hose, new prunelle gaiters, linen handkerchief with a $2.00 bill and a silver half dollar tied in one corner. Supposed to be Miss Mathews of Milwaukee.

No. 166—Body of a man, found half a mile south of Hyde Park House; 5 feet 8 inches high, linen coat with pearl buttons with brass rim, vest same as coat, with small pearl buttons, black cassimere pants, cotton shirt with linen bosom, small looking-glass set in pearl in vest pocket.

At Winnetka, on Friday, an inquest was held on the body of a female, unknown, which came ashore at that place. It was very much decomposed, and only fragments of clothing still adhered to it. Height five feet. A plain gold ring, taken from the third finger of the left hand, is in possession of John L. Wilson, at Winnetka. The body was interred at Rosehill, on Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon, the body of a man was discovered tossing in the swell which broke heavily on the outer breakwater, off the foot of Washington street. Attempts were made to recover it, but they could not be successful until the sea subsided, which was not until after dusk.

A WAIL FROM THE "TINTH."

To the Common Council of the City of Chicago, greeting—
For we, the dacent byes of the Tinth, have just had a meeting;
Indignant we wor, and, be jabers, we said so,
As our sires of old, at Bunker Hill and Bladensburg, Yorraktown, and plinty more places bled so.
We've borne it too often, and three more times nor that, bedad, sir;
Election with niver a blow, nor divvle a fight to be had, sir;
Wuts the use ov trees on which swate shillalies are growin?
Wuts the use ov stones and brick bats, nate and handy for throwin?
Wuts the use ov heads to be hit, quiet and nately?
Wuts the use ov bunches ov bones handled so swately?
Wuts the use ov a crowd, wid divvle a bit of a scrimmage?
Wuts the use of makin' a dacent bye into an image?
Does the Consthitushun share say all men are ayquil,
And give niver a chance to see if its so, in the sayquil?
Wut are ellcshuns fur, but to thry the stringth of the paaple
And ov our institushuns, aint fists an shillalas the shtaple?
Wures the fame of the Tinth, if the byes are all cruelly tied up,
Wid niver a fight, nor pavin-shtones to be pried up?
Wid the bloody peelice ov Long John, divil swape 'em,
Wut chance has the byes if into one long line ye kaape em?
Aint the Tinth all along bin the pride and boasht ov the city?
Aint we the byes to vote all day siveral times, more's the pity?
Didn't we shtand by the polls all the day, by the powers sure,
And kape off the bloody Dutch, hours and hours sure?
Wure wur the byes to vote more nor often than we did?
Wasn't our shkill at such swate, little fights conceedid?
Wen was a head to punch, an the glorious Tinth let the job out
Until, bad luck to it, ye saw the Republikkan mob out?
Who don't rimimber the swate little time, one ov many,
Wen at the head of the b'yes the thrue hearted—"Aldernan from the Tinth,"
Led on in the front ov the swate and obstinate battle,
And our shillalas made many a Dutchman's head rattle.
Nobody said then the Tinth wornt well reprisinted;
Niver one that we hit wid our shtieks, wornt swately continted.
Whoop! be jabers, but them's the times to look back to;
Tare an ouns, but them's jist the times that we lack too
And now wut we want, is as plain as the nose on your face is,
That the byes on votin days be put jist back to their places;
Take away the bloody perlice, sure the Tinth dont want any,
Leave the votin to us, and the charge ov the byes to—"the Alderman ov the Tinth."
If its not that ye'll do, thin as dacent, bys, we think?
The least, ye can do, is to giv us a votin preeshink,
Vote all ye want to yerselves in the tither,
And give to the byes ov the bloody Tinth the ither.
Then all the votin can go on, dacent an quiet,
Widout a head to be broke, or the laste tashte ov a riot
Vote as much as ye wull, and jist as many to plase ye,
And we dacent byes will FILL UP, and defind, and take charge ov the ither, jist as aisy.
Hooray for Duglas, the choice of the Tinth, by this tokin;
Hooray for Breck, if Stayphin's hopes gits brokin—
We're the dacent byes ov the Tinth, as go the whole figger;
Hooray for the Conshtitushun, a new Charter dividin up the city so we can hold it aisy; an aquil right at the taxes; an four dollars a day an' rosht beef at puttin' in gas pipes, as the Governor says; an ivery man for himself, an iverybody—but a NAYGUR.

A GRAND ENTERTAINMENT.—We understand that excelsior Wide Awake Club (West Side,) the second club formed in this city, will give a grand entertainment on Thursday evening at Metropolitan Hall. The entire Light Guard and Great Western Bands and other distinguished musical talent are engaged for the occasion. Here is an opportunity to enjoy a rich musical treat and assist the club in paying their indebtedness, and as this is probably the last opportunity previous to the election, we hope everydody will go. Full particulars will be given on Tuesday.

ATTENTION WEST SIDE WIDE AWAKES.—Will every member—every single one—meet at the rooms at Witbecker's on Monday evening at 7½ o'clock, to make preparation for the concert of the "Excelsior Wide Awake Club," (West Side) and hear the report of the Committee. Let every man bring his cape to the rooms to be furnished with the insignia adopted by the Club. Will you turn out? "Excelsiors" to the rescue!

EDITORS RURAL NEW YORKER.—Seeing an inquiry in the Rural for a cure for that distressing disease, the Asthma, I wrote to let the inquirer know what has almost entirely cured me. I have had the spasmodic asthma fifteen years, and never found any medicine that would prevent an attack when it was coming on, until I commenced taking Jonas Whitcomb's Remedy for Asthma, Rose Cold and Hay Fever. I commenced taking this remedy eighteen months ago, and have not had a severe paroxysm since. I also use saltpeter paper. Saltpeter is present relief, but no cure. Whitcomb's Remedy has done for me all that it is recommended to do. I take it according to directions—a teaspoonful instead of a table-spoonful. It is prepared by Joseph Burnett & Co., Boston, Mass. A LITTLEFIELD COAL BURNER IN USE FOR THREE WINTERS.—A letter from the Hon. James Noxon to the inventor of the Railway Coal Burner, Parlor Furnace, &c.:

MY DEAR SIR: My opinion as to the merits of the Railway Coal Burner was pretty fully expressed when I met you in Albany, after the first trial. For the past three winters I have used in my office No. 10, ten inch pot, and am convinced it is the very best stove manufactured. In all ordinary weather, it sufficiently warms two rooms 18 feet square. It consumes little fuel, and not more than three new fires have been made in the stove in either of the winters I have used it. In my dwelling house, I have used during the past winter sizes No. 11 and 9. No. 11 is used for a hall stove, and No. 9 for warming a bedroom. These last sizes are new patterns, and give the most perfect satisfaction. I have had no experience with your furnace, and am not able to judge of its merits.

I am respectfully yours, JAMES NOXON.
Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 4, 1860.

These Coal Burners may be seen in operation, and are for sale by H. C. Van Shaack, Jr., at his HOUSEKEEPER'S EMPORIUM, 47 State street, where also will be found nearly every article required for housekeeping.

☞ Now that the election is near at hand, and as it is highly necessary that on that important occasion all men should present a respectable appearance, we would advise them to give Messrs. Cook & McLain, 98 Dearborn street, a call, and so renovate your apparel as that you may come forth fully prepared to do your duty as citizens and freemen.

STEREOSCOPIC.—A stereoscope and twelve views for twenty-five cents; all the November magazines, all the pictorial and sporting papers for this week, and a fresh lot of Dr. Holland's novel, "Miss Gilbert's Career," are for sale by McNally & Co., 81 Dearborn street.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22d, 1860.
JOSEPH BURNETT, Esq.—Dear Sir: For some time past, I have been using your Cocoaine, and consider it far preferable to anything I have ever used for the hair.
If my endorsement is of any value you are perfectly at liberty to use it.
Respectfully yours,
oc19 1m mw&F FRANK LESLIE.

TO THE PUBLIC.—As it has become very generally known that one JARVIS CASE, claims that I am infringing upon his patent in SEEDING MACHINES, I take this method of stating what the facts are, that no one may be deceived by him. Said Case obtained a reissue of his patent of January 1855, Nov. 15th, 1858, by making the required oath that he was the sole inventor of the double-drop principle. Now it is a matter of fact that this principle was used in a Horse Planting Machine, in 1848, and no patent granted for the same. Also in Hand Planters in 1850-51. Again it was used in a Horse Planter in 1851-52, precisely as Case used it, which I am prepared to prove. I also can prove that I began to use the same arrangement to form the double drop that I now use, in August, 1852. Taking these facts into consideration, any man may by examining the patent laws, satisfy himself that as any patentable principle, having been used TWO YEARS prior to date of application becomes public property. In conclusion I would say to all interested, pay no attention to any threats, the said Case may make in reference to this matter, nor suffer him by falsehood and misrepresentation to swindle you out of your money. I stand ready to defend all suits either against myself or any other person he may bring, unless there should be some one in collusion with him, as it appears has been the case with one man who suffered judgment by default against himself, making no defence, not even notifying me that he had been sued.

DOUGLAS' MINNESOTA ORGAN.

The article which we print this morning from the St. Paul Pioneer and Democrat—the leading organ of Mr. DOUGLAS in Minnesota—cannot fail to attract much attention. That journal believes that the recent State elections have settled the Presidential contest, by assuring the election of ABRAHAM LINCOLN. It admits that Mr. DOUGLAS is not in the fight at all, and that the only question at issue is whether the power and influence of the federal government shall be wielded for the establishment of Slavery in the Territories, or for the establishment of Freedom. This being the case, the Pioneer and Democrat more than intimates that it is the duty of Douglas men, who prefer the latter to the former, to vote for Mr. LINCOLN. The South, it says, will vote solidly for BRECKINRIDGE; and it asserts that if northern men are true to their instincts, they will give LINCOLN more than a million majority of the popular vote of the country.

This advice is substantially the same as that given by us to our Douglas friends, even since the election of LINCOLN was assured by the result in Pennsylvania and Indiana. It must commend itself to the good sense and to the patriotism of every honest man among them. By persisting in voting for Douglas they practically disfranchise themselves, or, if their votes tell upon the result at all, it will only be to increase the chances of Breckinridge or Lane. In conjunction with the Pioneer and Democrat we once more appeal to those whose first choice is no longer in the fight, to be true to their instincts, and vote on the side of freedom. Not, as we have repeatedly said before—not because their votes will be necessary to elect Mr. LINCOLN—for his defeat is no longer a possibility—but that his victory may be so overwhelming and complete as to put a final quietus upon the dogma of intervention in behalf of Slavery. Let our Douglas friends read and ponder the advice of Mr. DOUGLAS' Minnesota organ.

THE "COMMON BLOOD AND TREASURE" ARGUMENT.

The favorite argument of slaveholders is the "common blood and treasure" one. The territories were acquired, they say, by the common blood and treasure of the whole nation—the South as well as the North; therefore, slaveholders have an equal right to take with them into the territories their (slave) property that Northern people have their personal property, of whatever kind. Ignoring the moral aspect of the slavery question, and this demand of the slaveholders seems fair and plausible. It is very true that the territories were acquired by the common efforts of people in all the States, slaveholders as well as non-slaveholders. But will it be asserted that slaveholders fought more bravely, or spilled more of their blood, or expended more treasure in proportion to their numbers, than those who owned no slaves? He who avers the affirmative asserts a falsehood.

The territories being the common property of all the citizens, the rights of each are equal. Every man has an undivided interest in the public domain of the same extent of any other man. A slaveholder is entitled to no larger parcel than a free labor citizen. If the unsold public lands would subdivide to equal a quarter section to each white man in the United States, would Congress dare to pass a bill endowing the class who whip their living out of negroes, with a section apiece, and those who earn their bread by the sweat of their brows, with only 40 acres each? Are slaveholders entitled to more than their pro-rata share of the territories? Does equity, or good faith, or fraternity require it? Certainly not. The rights and interests of a free-labor man are as dear to him as they are to the owner of negroes.

The proportion of territory that would fall to the share of the slave-owners should correspond with their relative numbers. There are less than 400,000 of this class in the Union. And reckoning all of them as heads of families, and giving to each a wife and three children, the entire number of persons interested directly or indirectly in slaves, falls below two millions. The white population of the United States, exceeds twenty-six millions; hence the class interested in slaves are only one in thirteen of the whole. The non-slaveholders, with their families, are twenty-four millions. Conceding the "common blood and treasure argument," the slaveholders are entitled to one-thirteenth part of the public domain, acquired by the United States, since the War of Independence. Have they received no more than this? Whatever portion of the public domain they have secured, exceeding one-thirteenth, has been taken from the share rightfully belonging to the Free Labor classes. A glance at the map will show which side has been cheated.

"But," interposes a doughface, "our "slave-holding brethren are entitled in the "partition of the public domain to a pro-"portion equal to themselves and slaves. "Their whole class should be taken togeth-"er. All the members of their households "should be counted, as they practice the "patriarchal system of society."

We might plead the fatal objection to this claim, that the slaveholder regards his slaves as chattels and not as persons, and that the free laborer may with equal propriety, claim more land on the basis of his shop, ships, steam engines, or cattle. But as the Constitution reckons five slaves as equivalent to three free persons, in Federal representation, we will for sake of the argument with Mr. Doughface, let slaves count the same as citizens. Then we have four millions of slaves to add to two millions of slave owners (including their families)—total, six millions; against twenty-four millions of white citizens having no interest, near or remote, in slaves. The slave-holding class on this basis, comprises one-fifth part of the American people, bond and free; and the self-laboring whites embrace four-fifths of the whole population of the United States. These proportions have substantially existed since the Declaration of Independence.

At the first parition of territory after the Revolutionary War, the slaveholders cooly appropriated to their share, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi. The free-labor masses, representing four-fifths, as we have shown, of the whole population, got Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. They were clearly entitled to 80 per cent. of the public domain, and the slaveholders, with their human chattels, to 20 per cent. But the latter grabbed 40 per cent., and cheated Free Labor out of Kentucky and Tennessee, which belonged to it, not only by population and the expenditure of blood and treasure, but by the laws of climate and production. Kentucky would be the white man's paradise, if rid of Slavery; and Tennessee is admirably adapted to the uses of free white labor. We never hear doughfaces complain of this glaring usurpation on the part of the Oligarchy, whereby Freedom was swindled out of the soil of those two naturally free-labor States.

Shortly after the above mentioned partition, Florida and the province of Louisiana were purchased from Spain and France, and paid for by the common treasure—four-fifths of the money coming out of the pockets of the free-labor class of citizens. The Louisiana purchase embraced a vast territory, from which the States of Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota have been carved. The slave-holders promptly seized upon the lion's share. They took Florida, Louisiana, Arkansas and Missouri, leaving Iowa and Minnesota to the people who had paid eighty per cent. of the purchase money. By all rules of honesty, equity, or population, as well as by the laws of climate, soil and production, Missouri and Arkansas belonged to the the free-labor class. Florida and Louisiana were the very utmost to which the Slave-holders should have laid claim. Those four States out of which free-labor has been defrauded, possess the climate of France and Italy, and are as salubrious and as easily cultivated by white men, as those fine countries. The holding of slaves in Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri and Arkansas, is a great blunder in political economy, a curse to material progress, and unjustifiable in every respect.

We will not stop here to consider the wicked and treacherous attempt on the part of the Oligarchy, to seize the remaining portion of the French purchase, in violation of their own quit-claim and bond, given to the free-labor class, by the Missouri Compromise of 1820.

The next acquisition was Texas—a vast tract of land large enough to make five States like Illinois. The climate and soil of the upper districts, embracing three-fourths of its area, are admirably adapted to free-labor, stock-raising and grain-growing being the most profitable agricultural branches. How much of this immense acquisition has fallen to the share of free labor? Not an acre. It is all covered over with the blackest and most barbarian slave code that disgraces the civilized world. This immense territory, four-fifths of which was obtained by the blood and treasure of the Free Labor class, has been grasped by the avaricious slave-breeders. But this is not all. By fraud and deceit they have fastened a slave code on New Mexico—a territory five times as large as New York. And they made a terrible row in 1850 because they were not allowed to seize California. We now find them threatening "to rend the Union from turret to foundation" unless the twenty-four millions of free white laborers will surrender to them all the most valuable portions of the remaining territories! That is the present issue. That is what all the noise and excitement is about. They have now immensely more than their share. Free labor has been cheated and robbed of much of its fairest and finest rightful domain. Submission to farther usurpation of the horse-leeches, would be a crime against posterity as well as a premium on fraud and aggression. The point of endurance has been passed and the thing must be stopped. The slave-holder's "blood and treasure" claim has been amply satisfied long, long, ago. All the public domain remaining will not half discharge the equitable requirements of the free labor class. Our side of the house has been swindled long enough. The one-thirteenth of the whites have domineered over the other twelve-thirteenths quite sufficiently. The majority have some rights which the minority will be compelled to respect. And if that is treason, we say to the fire-eaters, make the most of it.

STEAM AT FIRES.

The wisdom of our city authorities in discarding the use of the old-fashioned hand engines and the services of a volunteer department, and substituting therefor steam machines and a paid department, is every day more and more apparent. The fire at the immense Brewery of Lill & Diversey, on Chicago avenue, on Friday evening, proved, for the fiftieth time, the economy of the change that has been made. Had the department been on its old footing, that valuable pile would certainly have been burned to the ground. Nothing that the most exhausting and persevering labor could have done with the old machines would have availed; and it was only to a skillful use of the agencies at hand that that great property was saved. As it is, the loss is inconsiderable; but the entire value of the establishment, over and above the cost of repairs, must be set down to the credit of steam.

But to the mass of our people the great benefit of the steam department comes indirectly. As the result of careful inquiry made at leading agencies in this city, we are enabled to say that the annual saving to the city, through lower rates of insurance which follow improved methods of extinguishing conflagrations, is greater than the whole cost of the fire apparatus, including also the yearly expenses of the department in all its branches. This seems like an extravagant statement to be made in a wooden city like this; but it is unquestionably true. We have no means of ascertaining exactly the gross amount of the premiums paid here every year for insurance; it is large—averaging at least four hundred and eighty thousand dollars. Now within the past year, and since the advantages of a steam fire department have been proved, there has been a large reduction of rates. This reduction is estimated differently at different offices; but the average is not less than thirty per cent. An active competition among underwriters has had much to do with this falling off. To that agency may be attributed a decline of 10 per cent., but the steam machines must have credit for the remainder—20 per cent. This, deducted from the gross premiums of last year, would show a saving of $96,000! The entire expenses of the department for the last half year, as we learn by the Comptroller's books, have been $23,753, which amount covers all salaries, all repairs, horses, their feed, &c., &c.—a total of $47,506 per annum. There are six engines in use, for which the city paid in the aggregate $23,000. Hence the cost of the Department for the current year, including cost of engines and all machinery is $70,500. But as the engines will last twenty years or more, but a small portion of their original cost is to be charged in the annual expenses, which may be fixed at $55,000. So the city pays that sum to save in cash $96,000, to secure an almost perfect immunity from wide-spread and destructive conflagrations, and to guard against the frequent ravages of smaller fires which destroy in the aggregate immense amounts of property which no insurance covers. The sum of it all is, that the paid fire department with steam machines is a money-making investment of the first importance—one that no man in the city would be willing to dispense with for five times its cost.

But there other advantages connected with the use of steam machines which are not to be overlooked. Those who run them do not get drunk, kick up rows, commit acts of insubordination, kill each other in street fights, badger the authorities, nor encourage idleness and debauchery. Always ready, never tired, invariably obedient and effective, the engines dispense at once with that train of evils which in this country always have followed and always will follow hand machines and a volunteer department. The engine-houses are no longer nurseries of rowdyism and strife; they resemble machine-shops in which men work for pay and behave themselves because their self-respect commands it. Putting out fires is no longer an occasion for a general drunk, but a trade to be made respectable and remunerative by the good conduct and skilled efficiency of those who pursue it. We wonder that with the experience of Chicago and Cincinnati—the results of which are easily figured—the larger cities like New York and Philadelphia have been content to endure the manifold disadvantages of the old system, when the necessary reforms may be so easily introduced. He would be a bold man who in our Common Council should propose to give up the steam machines and go back to the rowdyism and inefficiency of the past.

Burning a Slave.

They still occasionally burn a slave at the South. A letter to the editor of the Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer, dated Tuskegee, Ala., Oct. 9, says, referring to a crime, the nature of which was not stated:

"The boy, belonging to Maj. Cockey of this county, was arrested to-day. A large number of the citizens, perhaps 150, met, tried and sentenced him, and before the sun set he was burned to ashes. A horrid death, surely, but his crime was such that no mercy could be shown. No Judge presided, no Jury was empanneled. He was burned about seven miles north of Tuskegee, near Gen. Gunn's plantation. Horrid the punishment, but just, though the blood may run cold in our veins as we think of it."

GRAND REPUBLICAN RALLY AT ATLANTA.

Speeches by Grow, of Pa., Galloway, of Ohio, and Palmer, of Ill.

[Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.]

ATLANTA, Oct. 26, 1860.

It may, perhaps, be known to the readers of your paper that yesterday was the day appointed for Mr. Galloway to address the people of this part of the State on the political topics of the day, and at the same time a grand Wide-Awake tournament was contemplated to be addressed by Judge Palmer; fortunately it so happened that Hon. G. A. Grow was also present. Early in the day the Wide-Awakes from Mt. Pulaski, Elkhart, McLean, Waynesville and Lincoln began to pour in, while the roads in every direction were filled with processions from all parts of the country around, and by noon it is estimated that not less than 2,000 to 3,000 people were present. At 1 o'clock the booming of the cannon and the rapid forming into ranks of the different companies of the Wide-Awakes told us of the near approach of the train from the South, bearing the speaker of the day. They were met at the cars by the largest concourse of the people ever assembled in our little city. They were at once transferred into carriages and escorted to the residence of Geo. L. Parker, Esq., to dinner by the Wide-Awakes, preceded by an excellent brass band. After dinner they were in a like manner escorted to the speaking ground in Seminary square, where a neatly arranged rail pen stand had been erected from which to speak. Mr. Grow was first introduced and made one of the most effective arguments ever heard in this place. His familiarity with the Homestead question gave him a power over his audience which drove the sattelites of Douglas to their dens, sneaking as they wended their way. His speech was listened to with the most profound attention, and I am sure will tell greatly at the approaching election.

Hon. Sam. Galloway next spoke, and with his inimitable style, his wit, and powerful oratory, held the audience enchained until it was dark.

I have heard many speeches made in Illinois, but have seldom ever heard one that so fully dethroned all consciousness of everything else but the speech on the part of his hearers. The rapture and enthusiasm that reigned throughout the audience cast a damper over the foes of Lincoln that they will not soon recover from.

About 7 o'clock the Wide Awakes made their appearance and paraded through the streets, commanding the admiration of all who saw them. They were from 300 to 400 strong, and their conduct and appearance would compare favorably with any equal number in any city.

About half past seven the crowd reassembled at the speaking ground, and it was found that the audience was quite as large as at any time during the day—all had remained to hear Judge Palmer. His speech was about two hours in length, and was pronounced by all to have been one of the most thorough expositions of the Republican doctrine, and most effectual disabuse of the public mind with reference to the fallacies and sophistries of Douglas ever kelivered in this city. He closed amid the most enthusiastic cheering for Lincoln and Hamlin. Upon the whole it was one of the largest meetings in this part of the State, and was the most complete success I ever witnessed. The speakers were highly gratified with the respectability and attentiveness of the audience, and in return the audience was transported with the telling effect of the speakers. I shall be much mistaken if Latham does not fill the seat in the next legislature, now held by Campbell, Douglasite. Our neighbors of Tazewell have strong hopes of electing a Republican member from that county, while every effort will be made to elect Judge Dummer (Rep.,) to the Senate, by which we hope to make two changes in the House, and one in the Senate. Our folks are fully aroused, and you may depend upon hearing a good report from us on next Tuesday week, from Old Abe down to Coroner.

OCCASIONAL.

Lovejoy at Lincoln.

[Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.]

LEXINGTON, Ill., Oct. 25, 1860.

This has been a glorious day for the Republicans of old McLean. Hon. Owen Lovejoy was here and made one of his able and telling speeches of over two hours in length, dealing heavy blows to the shattered forces of the Democratic party. He reviewed the House Homestead Bill and compared it with the Senate Skeleton Bill, showing the latter to be ridiculous in the extreme, eliciting from the crowd frequent bursts of applause that showed they indorsed what the speaker found to be the aim and true policy of the Republican party.

In the evening Harvey Hogg, Esq., (candidate for the Legislature,) and others addressed a respectable audience in the open air, after which we had a song from the Bloomington Glee Club, who came up on a special train, accompanied by about three hundred citizens and a company of Wide Awakes, which added much to the appearance and good feeling of the 2,000 present.

The weather was fine, and everything passed off quietly and peaceably, and a general good feeling and an assurance that "Abe" will be elected seemed to be enjoyed by all Republicans.

Every body is wide awake, and you can set old McLean down good for a thousand majority for "Old Abe," with the balance of the ticket not far behind.

Truly,

REPUBLICAN.

Richard Oglesby in DeWitt Co.

[Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.]

MOUNT PLEASANT, Oct. 25, 1860.

Yesterday closed the campaign for the Eastern part of DeWitt county. The day was fine and Oglesby made a telling speech against "non-intervention," and in favor of Republican principles, and the election of Lincoln to the Presidency. We are determined to send Dick to the State Senate from this, the 16th Senatorial district, over fusion. LeRoy, in McLean county, turned out a large delegation. The north part of Piatte county turned out pretty well, which made the meeting very respectable in numbers; and all taken together there never was a more truly respectful and intelligent collection of people gathered to-gather in the town of Mount Pleasant. This section of the State will tell a tale that will long be remembered by the confused Democracy, after the 6th of November next. The Clinton Brass Band was on hand, and added cheerfulness to our already cheerful spirits, with good music. So we are now ready as citizens and Republicans to vote an expression of the measures which we are sure, if adopted and carried out, will be for our benefit and our country's good.

GRAYVILLE, White Co., Oct. 20, 1860.

Put down Grayville henceforth as a growing Republican town. The changes to Republicanism effected hereabout are indeed wonderful. Just look at it: four years ago Mr. Sidney Spring and one other citizen were the only supporters of Fremont. Last night a company of over forty Wide-Awakes were out with lighted torches, parading the streets in honor of the speakers of the day and evening, Messrs. Olney and Julian Kune of your city. The former gentleman had a joint discussion with Judge Haynie on the political issues of the day, at 1 o'clock p. m., while Mr. Julian Kune spoke in the evening to a very large and enthusiastic crowd.

Dr. Mack at Loda.

LODA, Oct. 25th, 1860.

Dr. Mack of Kankakee addressed the citizens of our place last evening upon the political issues of the day. The freight house at the depot was filled with a large and attentive audience, and never within the remembrance of the oldest settlers has the like been heard before. He illustrated in a masterly manner the distinctive difference between the great Republican party and the various fragments of the so-called Democratic party. Every sentence he uttered was pregnant with importance, carrying conviction home to the honest in heart of the purity of the Republican party, and telling with fearful and overwhelming evidence against the corruptions of our opponents. He confined himself entirely to the record, and invited any one present to join issue upon every or any charge that he made upon the Douglas faction, promising to commit the unpardonable sin, should they prove him guilty in falsifying the record, of voting for Douglas. Although the Democratic leaders here were all present, no one opened his mouth. It was a victory long to be remembered by our people. He spoke for nearly two hours; at first in measured terms, and as he proceeded it could be compared to nothing less than a perfect tornado of incontrovertable truth.

The entire audience was perfectly spell-bound. You could have heard a pin drop all over that large building, at any time during the speech, save and except when the brim-full heart poured out its enthusiasm in long, repeated, deafening hurras for the speaker and Lincoln, and the whole ticket. Did you not hear us in Chicago? Set down Loda as all right.—We are all busy and wide-awake. Mr. Crane spoke on Thursday night to a full house, and gave us an excellent speech. Gov. Crandall speaks on Saturday, and so we go—three speeches in a week, and the whole community a vigilance committee in the great cause of Lincoln and liberty, and victory is inscribed upon all our banners.

R. D. FOSTER.

P. S.—After the speech, Dr. Mack was serenaded by an enthusiastic company of Germans, at the residence of A. Goodell, when he gave them another speech.

MOVEMENTS OF THE PEOPLE.

SOUTHERN GASCONADE.—The Baltimore correspondent of the New York World gives his impressions of European gasconade, which seems just now to be under the full tide of experiment:

The roaring of the Southern Secession papers and politicians in the Index have reached us, and are received with ridicule and contempt. Everybody hereabout knows it is all a political trick, to try and frighten off voters from Lincoln in the North. There is no more serious idea of secession, even in South Carolina, than there is of their attempting to fly without wings. As Yancey has let down in the North, such is the real state of feeling, even among the politicians. As to the people, they pay no attention to such buncombe stuff. They are too used to it.

—A RELAPSED DOUGLAS-BELL MAN.—One of the redoubtable Kentucky champions of Douglas-Bellism, who traversed Ohio before the State election, making speeches under the auspices of the Bell-Everett Committee, has returned home and gone to work for Breckinridge and Lane. He is the same man who headed the mob a few months ago to destroy the Free South newspaper at Newport, Ky.

—The Bell-Everett party, which made an immense amount of noise, and which was expected to eat away the ranks of the Republicans, turned out to be the most insignificant crowd, in point of numbers, that ever made a political demonstration in this State—being scarcely able to muster ten thousand votes in the whole Commonwealth.

The above is from a Democratic paper of Philadelphia. Before the late election the Democrats were most fulsome in their flattery of the Bell party, and used fraudulent devices to give a false color to their numerical strength. The fact that in the recent fusion in Pennsylvania no consideration was given to the Bell-Everetts, is sufficient evidence of the estimate in which that faction is now held in that State.

THE TUNE CHANGED.—The Enquirer, which was lately begging most piteously for a universal fusion against Lincoln, now prays to be spared the assistance of the Breckinridge men of the Northwest, in accordance with the rumored instructions of the Administration. Our contemporary is in an extremely dissatisfied condition, and very hard to please.—Cincinnati Com.

—The "Young Norvel," whom the Bell-everetts of Tennessee sent up into the North to instruct our people in their political rights and duties, has returned home in a discouraged state and joined the Breckenridge and Lane party. No sensible man can fail to perceive that the Presidential contest is reduced to a distinct issue between Lincoln and Breckinridge.

—The Providence Journal asks:—"Does Mr. Douglas mean to make some of the Southern States vote for Lincoln? Every Northern State which has held an election since he visited it has given an increased Republican vote and an overwhelming Republican majority. Does he intend to make Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia vote for our candidate? He seems to have done more for our side than almost any speaker we have sent into the field."

—It is said that an effort is being made to induce Judge Taney to resign his place as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, that Mr. Buchanan may appoint his successor. The trouble is the old man can hardly live through Lincoln's administration—and it would be supremely awful for Lincoln to have such an appointment to make.

—THE BEST THING OF THE SEASON.—In the great fusion procession in New York on Tuesday evening last, was the picture of a huge negro, and underneath the inscription: "The successor of Abraham Lincon in 1864." Gov. Chase was detained in his carriage by the procession, and saw this offensive placard. "It seems," said he, "that our friends on the other side have already nominated their candidate for the succession."

PENNSYLVANIA.—Ex-Gov. Pollock, who is one of the Republican Electors at Large, and who has been on the stump most of the time for the last two months, made a speech at Westchester on the 24th, in which he predicted that Pennsylvania would give not less than 50,000 majority for Lincoln, and he hoped for 100,000.

—Hon. F. Cunningham, of Broome county, N. Y., was one of the most eloquent and effective stump speakers for Fillmore in 1856. He is now equally eloquent and effective for Lincoln and Hamlin.

—Capt. Coveny and Francis Dolan, two influential Democrats of Buffalo, N. Y., have come out for Lincoln and Hamlin.

—The Baltimore Patriot (Bell-Everett), says the best way to make Lincoln voters is to commit such outrages as were perpetrated upon the Republican headquarters in that city a few nights since.

COMING.—Ex-Mayor Samuel C. Smith and Evan M. Johnson, two of the most respected citizens in Brooklyn, N. Y., and hitherto active Democrats, have declared their intention to vote for Lincoln and Hamlin.

—S. N. Caulkins, of Auburn, New York, a life-long Democrat, publishes a letter declaring it his intention to vote for Lincoln.

—The Winona (Minn.) Democrat, of the 20th, comes to us with the Douglas flag hauled down and that of Breckinridge hoisted in its stead.

—Isaac Gullihur, of Knoxville, Knox County, in this State, until this time a Democrat, publishes a letter in the Knox Republican announcing his determination to go for Lincoln and Hamlin.

—That is a pleasant co-partnership where each party thinks the others are cheating him, like the one described in this paragraph—and its similitude in New York:

The Springfield State Register, a Douglas paper, accuses the "Americans" in Pennsylvania and Indiana of voting with the Republicans. The Louisville Journal, "American" organ, says those States "have been fully betrayed into the hands of the Republicans by the Breckinridge Democracy. And to cap the climax, the Washington Constitution, Breckinridge organ, accuses the Douglas men of Pennsylvania of voting with the Republicans!

—It is said that Old Oneida (N. Y.), can be counted upon for 5,000 Republican majority this Fall.

CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS IN MASSACHUSETTS.—The result in at least three of the Congressional Districts in Massachusetts will be looked forward to with great interest in all sections of the country, especially in view of the fact that the next House of Representatives is likely to exhibit but a small Republican plurality. These Districts are the fourth, fifth and ninth, the latter being that of Eli Thayer. There is however, but little doubt, with the inspiring news from Pennsylvania and the West, that the Republicans will carry all of these Districts, and for the third time in succession send a unanimous Republican delegation to the National Legislature.—Boston Traveler.

—Senator Slidell, one of the staunchest and most active Breckinridge men, in an address to the people of Louisiana, declares that no sane man has any idea that Mr. Douglas will get the electoral vote of that State, and then he proceeds to discuss the prospects of Mr. Breckinridge and Mr. Bell:

These candidates stand some chance of dividing the electoral votes of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, California and Oregon, thus carrying the election into the House. A long struggle would precede the choice of Mr. Breckinridge, and if it were not effected, Gen. Lane would be elected by the Senate.

—Col. Forney, the leading Douglas man of Pennsylvania, gave the whole matter in a nutshell, when he said:

Every fusion in the Free States is intended to promote the election of John C. Breckinridge to the Presidency of the United States.

The Union at the South.

A great mass meeting of the Bell-Everett party was held recently at Salisbury, North Carolina, and in order to show the tone which pervaded the speeches, we extract from a Democratic paper, the Salisbury Banner, the subjoined notice of it:

"We have no hesitation in declaring that better Black Republican doctrine could not be desired by Lincoln himself, than we heard preached here during Thursday and Friday last. The tone of all the speeches was that of utter, unqualified, unmitigated submission to Black Republican rule. The nigger question was hooted at as a cause of dissolution. Mr. Boyden declared, and he desired it to be proclaimed from the house tops and through the newspapers, that he would accept the humblest office under Lincoln, and he also declared that it was folly to talk of dissolving the Union to protect the nigger. Governor Morehead was of the opinion that, because we had negroes run off down South, we had no right to complain of Northern negro thieves. Joe Turner proclaimed himself a submissionist, and said, any man who could stand Buchanan's Administration, could stand that of Lincoln; whilst Mr. Badger or Governor Graham, we forget which, denounced the administration of Franklin Pierce as the worst we ever did or could have, not excepting that of Lincoln. Loud threats of hanging Southern traitors were heard on all sides, but not a word of mensace to Northern traitors. Breckinridge was most violently assailed, and Douglas was applauded, whilst Lincoln was not even alluded to in disparaging terms. The secession of Alabama and South Carolina were the chief topics of denunciation, while the nullification of the fugitive slave law by Northern States was not once alluded to. The spirit of the speakers pervaded the crowd of their followers."

—A German girl, aged 12 years, while playing at the Decatur depot in this State, fell in front of a car, which passed over her neck, killing her instantly.

A REMARKABLE ARTICLE.

A Douglas Organ on the Present Aspect of the Canvass—Douglas Men Urged to Vote for Lincoln—His Election Predicted by a Million Majority.

READ, DOUGLAS MEN, READ!

[From the St. Paul Pioneer and Democrat.]

We are in daily receipt of letters from political friends, filled with anxious inquiries concerning the present state of the Presidential question, and desiring an expression of our views to the probable influence of the election of the Ninth upon the prospects of candidates, and with reference to the various platforms of principles really at issue before the people, and which are to be practically decided at the polls. We do not hesitate to respond to these inquiries; and the less so because it is a part of our duty to treat of such matters, candidly and frankly, even in the absence of friendly solicitation.

In the first place, then, we think the result of the elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, demonstrate, beyond all reasonable ground for doubt, that those States will go for Lincoln in November, and by vastly increased majorities. The disgustingly corrupt scheme of fusion which was entered into, partially in Ohio and Indiana, and completely in Pennsylvania, has been repudiated by the people of those States, emphatically and justly. It cannot be assumed that the people of other States in which the canvass has been made up according to the fusion programme, will act with any less honesty and intelligence, when the time comes for them to vote. We think, therefore, that New York will follow in the wake of her sister Middle States, with a majority of from one to two hundred thousand against the fusion outrage; and we think, further, that the people of that State will vindicate their reputation for moral honesty and political decency by such a vote. And, inasmuch as the poisonous influence of this Fusion Upas has been extended beyond the States in which it was planted, demoralizing the Democracy, destroying their hopes and paralyzing their efforts, we CANNOT BELIEVE otherwise than that THE WHOLE NORTH WILL GO FOR LINCOLN—rendering the vote of the Free States, for the first time in our history, purely sectional in its character.

In the second place, we think the influence of the elections of the Ninth will be to sectionalize the vote of the South. The South must view the results in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana, as determining the election of Lincoln. The natural impulse of the Southern mind will be to meet Northern radicalism with the radicalism of its own section. There is not time enough left to organize a new conservative movement in the South of sufficient strength to combat and conquer the sectional passions, which, already excited, will be inflamed to madness by the elections of the Ninth. The friends of Douglas will not work there with any heart, because they cannot look for a Northern response in a solitary electoral vote. The South cannot unite on Bell, because running on no distinctive platform, support of him would mean nothing and determine nothing. We may, therefore, look to see every Slave State go for Breckinridge.

If these premises are correct, Douglas, and the principles which he represents, are, practically speaking, NO LONGER AT ISSUE IN THIS CAMPAIGN. The canvass is reduced, by indications which are prophetic both in their tenor and force, to a contest between Lincoln and a Free Code on the one hand, and Breckinridge and a Slave Code on the other. This is a result which all who cherish the peace and harmony of the Union must deplore; but, deplorable or not, it is a plain fact, which cannot be gainsaid or obliterated, and which should, therefore, be looked at and acted upon as such, frankly and manfully. And being a fact, the voice of the North, in the expression of its sentiments at the polls, will neither be feeble nor uncertain.—A million majority will show the fidelity of the Northern masses to the instincts of their section, when these are appealed to by an issue which cannot be avoided or delayed.

The Northern Democracy are not responsible for the sectional character which the canvass has assumed. It has been precipitated by the ultraists of the South. Taking its birth in the jealousies of Southern politicians against the manliest statesman of our times, the movement has grown up from its ignoble beginnings in personal hate to its present proportions of warfare upon civilization and of treason against the State. They who have thus sown the wind must reap the whirlwind. The ultraists of the South must be extirpated. Until this is done there can be neither national peace nor national prosperity. We had hoped this might be achieved through the agency of Douglas, in the present campaign. THAT HOPE HAS VANISHED. Yet, regarding it as the first great act needful to be done, we shall greet its accomplishment with satisfaction through any agency that Providence may appoint.—St. Paul Pioneer and Democrat.

A Philadelphian's Impression of Chicago.

The North American and United States Gazette, of the 25th inst., contains a letter from this city, written by one of the Philadelphia excursionists who were here last week, from which we make the following extracts:

But few persons residing in the east can form an accurate judgment of the marvellous "go-aheaditiveness" of the American people unless they travel. In what direction it will be hardly necessary to say, since the celebrated line of Bishop Berkley holds good, that—

"Westward the Star of empire takes it way."

Think of the various cities of Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis, all of which (a few log-huts excepted) are the creation of but little more than a life-time. And more astonishing than these, contemplate Chicago, with her 100,000 inhabitants, as per census, the production of yesterday, as it were. Her stores are palaces—her vessels and warehouses form the granery of a nation, while her beef and pork packing establishments are enormous, sending forth supplies to all parts of the Union. We could discant at length on the elegance and substantial character of the edifices around, built of brick and Joliet stone—one slab of which laid down in a sidewalk is quite a curiosity, measuring 21 feet by 19, and 9 inches thick. It lay horizontally in the quarry, ready for the use of man; and it may be safely predicted that the Joliet freestone will soon render Chicago one of the handsomest cities on the continent. We could enlarge upon the beauty and grandeur of lake Michigan, and write long descriptions of the fertility of the neighboring lands; but as the object of the excursionists is exclusively business—to extend the ramifications of Philadelphia commerce—we forbear. Therefore, revenons a nos moutons. No city within our broad boundaries suffered more by the panic of 1857 than Chicago; and that mainly from the fact that the spirit of enterprize was carried to fever heat. People flocked to Chicago as if it were a modern El Dorado—as if here, and here alone, was to be found the cornucopia of Fortune—as if the houses were built with gold, and the streets paved with virgin silver. Alas! for the delusion. When the crash came, trade was benumbed, property and rents fell one-half and more, and hundreds, peradventure thousands, were suddenly ruined. But think you, gentle reader, that the citizens were overwhelmed with despair? No. Nothing at all of the sort. Except a few that were irredeemably sunk in the slough of despond, they soon caused Chicago to rise again, Phœnix-like, from the ashes of 1857. And now, things here are in a far more healthy condition—placed on a more solid basis, and the valuable fruit of prudence has been gathered from the thorny tree of experience. Rents of stores which, prior to the panic, were from $4,500 to $5,000 per annum, are now from $2,500 to $3,000, and even less. And so also with those of smaller value. Goods, too, bring fair, but no longer excessive prices. The handsomest "blocks" have been erected since 1857—capitalists naturally availing themselves of the low rates of materials and labor shortly after that disastrous period, and their investments now bring good and wholesome returns.

Business at the present time is very active here, and is placed on an improved footing, shorter credits being given to country dealers, and less credits generally. A large wholesale trade is transacted, especially in dry goods and groceries. One dry goods firm sells more than $1,000,000 in value yearly—an amount that would not be considered trifling even in Market street, Philadelphia. There are two kinds of establishments here that are much visited by strangers—the beef-killing and packing and pork-killing and packing concerns, and the grain elevators. As for the former they are vast, and conducted in the same skillful manner as at Cincinati. The grain elevators are wondrous and very effective machines. They are constructed on the principle of an endless chain pump, with buckets, and in one concern only they handle 400,000 bushels of grain per day. They unload a barge or schooner of 5,000 bushels in two hours, weigh the grain and shoot it into another vessel in an hour. The entire expense of handling and transshipping is only two cents per bushel—about one-third of the cost of the old system. The rapidity with which grain moves is equal to a cataract of water; and for fear of its heating or fermenting, jets of air are opened upon it at intervals. The elevators are from 60 to 80 feet high. The greatest feat yet performed by them was unloading the "Great Western," the largest vessel on the lakes, of 20,000 bushels in 55 minutes. Two elevators in one establishment accomplished this. But it was an extraordinary effort, and not to be calculated on as a regular power.

New Western Patents.

Patents were issued to the following inventors during the week ending Tuesday, October 16th:

Joshua E. Ambrose, of Batavia, Ill.; for improvement in lamps.

James Bain and Samuel C. Brown, of Richmond, Ind.; for improvement in dove-tailing machines.

A. P. Cassel, of Wataga, Ill.; for improvement in shrinking sieve.

Roswell Crane and Wm. Baldwin, of Anamosa, Iowa; for improvement in tanning.

Ezekiel Gulle, of Waverly, Mo.; for improvement in hemp breaks.

Gustavus Kleinwort, of Albion, Ill.; for improvement in uterine supporters.

Salem T. Lamb, of New Washington, Ind.; for improvement in washing machines.

D. Squier, Jr., and E. A. Preston, of Battle Creek, Mich.; for improvement in grain weighing machines.

William H. Tambling, of Berlin, Wis.; for improved bed bottoms.

D. C. Teller, of Beaver Dam, Wis.; for improvement in sewing machines.

The Test Applied.

Mr. Douglas says there must be something wrong in any political creed that cannot be safely advocated in all sections of the Union. Hear what the Democratic organ of South Carolina, the Charleston Mercury, says of him and his creed:

"His voice will not be tolerated in this State—even though it be a free country. It is more than the wholesome condition of his skin is worth. He would be kicked from every stump in the State. The cry of shame from every quarter of the South should rise up against Virginia, that she has not only permitted her soil to be desecrated by the bullying threats of violence against her Southern sister States, but men have been found there—found in masses—too hoot this Western blackguard with their cowardly shouts of applause. Shame! shame! upon poor old Virginia. Who could have thought she could have come to this?"

Wise on Lecomptonism.

Here is what Gov. Wise said, in his last speech, about the Lecompton swindle:

This device, this infamous Lecompton fraud, cunningly concocted at Washington, was employed to rush slavery,—to precipitate your interests and mine, your honor and mine—on the very bosses of the buckler of Popular Sovereignty. When "strict and equal justice" was the only motto, even of expediency, left for our security, it was attempted, per fas aut nefas to impose on State sovereignty itself the dictation of force fraudulently devised, and fraud most violently executed. Northern men were told that the South would permit them to vote for, but not against, a proposed form of State Constitution; and Southern men were entrapped into the scheme of rendering Slavery, the only institution which Congressional intervention against non-intervention should permit to be proscribed at the polls. For the sake of subjecting Slavery and Slavery alone, to unfriendly discrimination, Southern men were taught to forget even the wisdom of the cock in Esop's fable. That cock did have the sense to say to the horse, "If you won't tread on my toes I won't tread on yours." But our cock was taught a cockadoodledoo strain of unprincipled arrogance—taught to scratch the iron shod hoof of Anti-Slavery sentiment, to provoke aggression by aggression, to clamor for the game of "hardest fend off," by fair means or foul. People at the South asked each other, "Is this Southern policy?" People at the North asked each other, "Is this Southern justice?" Slavery was made to stink in the nostrils of the people of Kansas; the justice of our position, the morale of our organization, was sacrificed, and our friends at the North were estranged, disheartened, crushed, rendered powerless for our aid, and easy victims of a persecution directed against our welfare and dignity.

The Delevan Murder—Discharge of Green.

[From the Peoria Transcript.]

Young Green, who was implicated by Ott in the recent horrid tragedy at Delevan, was examined on Wednesday evening, before Justices Tacabery and Turner, at Pekin. The only witness against Green was Ott himself. He told a cool, plausible story, stating that Green went into Orendorff's house and committed the murder, while he (Ott) remained outside, and was not aware of what had been done until the next morning.

The defence introduced the father, mother, brother and brother-in-law of Green, whose testimony was sufficient to show that on the day of the murder Green was not absent from home any length of time—not nearly enough required for deeds like those committed. Another fact before the magistrates was that the tracks of two persons were found about the premises of Orendorff after the murder—that the tracks of one compare in size and peculiarity with those made by Ott, while the others could not have been made by Green. After hearing both sides the magistrates deemed it proper to order Green's discharge.

There were sto ies afloat that articles belonging to the family of Orendorff were found on Green when arrested, but such was not the case. There was nothing tending to cast suspicion on him, except the allegation of Ott, and the fact that the two had been on terms of intimacy, and that Ott was with Green before and after the murders. The general opinion seems to be that Green is innocent, but that Ott is a fiend in human form.

A Kansas Character in Canada.

HE COAXES FOUR GIRLS TO GO TO KANSAS, AND IS TARRED AND FEATHERED, BUT DOES SOME CUTTING.

[From the Chatham (Canada) Planet.]

It is with a feeling of deep regret that we are called upon to record a series of events that recently occurred at the quiet little village of Blenheim, about twelve miles from Chatham; which, taken altogether, are, we are pleased to say, of unusual occurrence in this section of Canada. As nearly as we have been able to gain the facts, they are these: Some time ago a man named Mark Galbraith, aged about 27 years, who had for some time resided in Kansas, came to Blenheim, and took up his residence there. For a long time he had been regarded with suspicion, and looked upon as a desperate, evil-disposed person. However, he has lived in Blenheim without attracting much attention, except it might be that his occasional appearance in the street called forth the remark, "There goes Mark Galbraith; 'tis said he always goes armed with a pistol and a bowie knife; wonder if it is true?" or language to the same purport. Yet Mark lived on unmolested by the people of the neighborhood. Latterly, however, Mark's movements have been more carefully watched, and a short time ago it leaked out that he was going back to Kansas, also that he had induced four young girls, or rather unmarried women, to accompany him, two of which females were sisters. This got wind, we understand, from some inquiries made by the mother of one of the females, who suspected that all was not quite right, and challenged her daughter what she was packing up her things for, when a sharp reply was given to the effect that she was going to Kansas, with Mark Galbraith. This being made public, and the girls being looked upon as being respectable, though of poor parents, and moreover, it having been positively stated that Galbraith was certain to leave for Detroit on Tuesday morning at three o'clock, it was at once resolved that his nicely laid scheme for seducing from their homes four simple-minded girls, should be immediately be frustrated, and he himself be made to pay for his temerity. Therefore, the better to complete their disguise, a number of persons, eight or nine in all, blackened their faces, and at about ten o'clock on Monday night, proceeded to Galbraith's house, which was situated in an out-of-the way place on the commons, in the outskirts of the village. Arriving here, Mark was, sans ceremony, routed out—he was not in bed—and ordered to strip off to the buff. This he declined to do, and at once drew a large bowie-knife, and without delay commenced to show Kansas fight, after the manner we sometimes read of. One man was badly cut on the hand, another stabbed over the eye and about the head, while a third was fearfully cut in the groin, it is said in such a way as may prove fatal to the injured party. As soon as it became known that Galbraith was using a knife, a number of other parties, who were looking on, at once turned in, and the Kansas gent was felled to the ground, stripped, and a coat of tar and feathers applied, besides a severe beating which so disabled him that at latest accounts he was not able to leave his house, though notice was given him to make tracks out of that clearing in less than twenty-four hours. We have above stated the matter as it was told to us.

Mr. Farnham at his Home—His Journey to Acton—How he Lives and the Secret of his Long Life.

The following letter from Mr. Ralph Farnham, the venerable Revolutionary patriot, who on Monday returned from Boston to his home in Acton, Me., will be read, we feel sure, with interest:

ACTON, Me., Oct. 23, 1860.

MESSRS EDITORS: I will give a brief account of my journey home. When we arrived at Lawrence there was a large crowd at the depot. They requested me to hold my hat out of the window, which I did, when they showered the "needful" into it as I never expected to see in my life. Then, as the train moved on, we left them amid such cheers as I never shall forget.

At Dover, N. H., I received the like reception, and the worthy Mayor very kindly attended me over to Great Falls, and presented me with a ten dollar bill.

At Great Falls I met with the same kind reception as at Lawrence and Dover; and the Ticket Master of the Great Falls Branch Railroad invited me to dinner, which I enjoyed very much.

After leaving Great Falls I was received with hearty cheers all the way along, until I arrived at Acton. I told them when I got home that I had seen the "elephant," and was very glad to get back.

I am in good health, and my friends think I am better than when I left home. I am sure that I am, as well.

I am also very grateful for the honor done me by the invitation to visit Boston, and the many attentions which I received when there. I remember with special pleasure my visit to Bunker Hill, attended by the Charlestown city authorities, the military and music; also, the addresses delivered on that occasion by the Mayor and Mr. Frothingham. I am also greatly indebted for the liberal sums of money and the many presents I received. My thanks, which are all I have to offer, seem but a poor return for so many favors.

I ought especially to mention Mrs. W. Farnham Lee, and the National Lancers, and Mayor Dana of Charlestown, and Mr. Gilmore's Concert Band, for their liberal presents.

Though I am in my 105th year, I am not passed all usefulness. I split my own kindling wood and build my own fires. I am the first one up in the morning, and the first one in bed at night. I never sleep or lay down in the day-time, but rise at five and retire at seven; and this I continue summer and winter. I have always been temperate, and for over thirty years past have not tasted a drop of spirituous liquors, or even cider. I was never sick in my life so as to require the attendance of a physician. About twenty-five years ago I broke my thigh by falling on the ice, and had a surgeon to set it; but this is the only time a doctor ever attended me.

I live on plain farmer's diet, drink tea and coffee, and eat a very light supper, never eating meat after dinner. I have no doubt it is owing to these abstemious and regular habits and the avoidance of medicine at all at little ailments, that my life has been so prolonged.

I voted for Gen. Washington for President, and have voted at every Presidential election since; and hope to vote at the next election. This is the duty of every christian freeman.

This letter, which my grandson has written at my direction, I have carefully read and approved, and I sign it with my own hand.

RALPH FARNHAM.

The Ghost of Barracks Street, New Orleans—A Horrible Discovery.

For some three weeks past there has been considerable excitement among the negroes who live in the neighborhood of Barracks street, New Orleans, in consequence of a report that the ghost of a free-colored man, who blew out his brains in that locality, was in the habit of occasionally emerging from his late residence and indulging in his midnight strolls, clad in vestments of most unearthly whiteness. Many negroes saw the ghost, and some had even approached it, in which case they saw it always sank slowly into the earth. This story at length spread among white people, and there were not a few who had satisfied their curiosity by midnight visits to the locality and were ready to take oath that the ghost story was no fabrication. At length it even obtained credit with the police, and two night watchmen got their beats removed to other streets from this one. One of these declared the ghost to be over ten feet high, and of ghastly visage. This had to be investigated, as there could be no doubt but that there was some ground for there stories, which attracted numbers of people on foot and in cabs, every midnight to Barracks street, one of those matter-of-fact men in whose minds the supernatural element finds little room. He walked up to the ghost the other night, and catching firm hold of it, discovered it to be a poor old half crazy woman who wanders out of her house at this time with one of her white undershirts drawn up over her head. The mystery was fathomed, and the locality has now lost all its former interest.—New Orleans Bee.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Thomas Whittemore, the well known clergyman, railroad and bank president, agriculturist &c., is dangerously ill, at his residence in Cambridge, Mass. The Boston Trumpet says:

"No great change has taken place in the editor's health since our last communication on that subject. He lies principally in bed. There is no crisis of improvement, no strong demonstration of recovery, neither is there any of falling away. He purposes that he will be able to Fitchburg in the train in about a week, but the week will disclose the facts better than we can foresee them."

—Mrs. Morgan, the accomplished wife of Gov. Morgan, of New York, is the recipient of a beautiful diamond necklace, a present from the Prince of Wales. It was sent from Boston by the express.

—It is not generally known why the prospective heir to the British throne is styled Prince of Wales. The facts of history in the case are as follows: When Edward I conquered Wales in 1283, it was under the dominion of a Prince who was put to death. It is related that after the contest the Welsh were uneasy without a Prince of their own, and Edward told them that he would give them a Prince born among themselves, who could not speak a word of English; and then nominated to them his son, just born at Caernarvon, who afterward became Edward II. Since that time the heir apparent to the British throne has been made Prince of Wales and Duke of Cornwall by special creation and investiture. As the King's eldest son, he is, however, Duke of Cornwall by inheritance without any new creation. If the reigning monarch has no sons, the eldest daughter is created Princess of Wales.

—A Southern merchant went into a manufactory in Newark, N. J., last week, to buy some goods, and finding the proprietor to be a Republican, talked so abusively that he was ordered to leave. The next day he returned, declaring that he knew the proprietor to be an honest man, made his purchases, and parted on the best of terms.

—The Bunker Hill Aurora says that while the Prince of Wales was at Bunker Hill, he made a pleasant remark to President Warren as to the object of erecting a monument, to which the President made an appropriate reply. The Prince cordially observed, "It is time these matters were forgotten."

Mr. Everett "a rich southern widow" soon weds,
And "whoever it can be" makes fools rub their heads;
But why mystery's made of the thing I can't tell,
As he's followed for months a well known Southern Bell.

—Col. Washington has written a letter of thanks to Mr. Thaddeus Hyatt for using his influence so successfully in securing the return of the pistol which was presented by Lafayette to Washington, and which was carried off by some of the John Brown marauders. He says, in the course of his note:

"Feeling myself to be only the custodial possessor of this relic, its history being national, I can only transmit it to posterity with the injunction with which Gen. Washington handed down to his nephews his five swords, viz: 'That they should not be unsheathed for the purpose of shedding blood, save in self-defence or in defence of their country, and then the possessors shall fall, but not relinquish them.'"

—Hon. Geo. E. Badger, Secretary of the Navy under Gen. Taylor, of North Carolina, in a late Bell-Everett speech, confessed that his vote for the Kansas-Nebraska bill was "the worst vote he ever gave in his life."

—Col. Curtin, Governor elect of Pennsylvania, who has been quite ill at the Gerard House, Philadelphia, for several days, has entirely recovered, and gone to fill engagements to address the people at Providence, Boston, &c.

—The Philadelphia visitors to Milwaukee, before leaving that city Monday afternoon, presented to Mayor Lynde the sum of four hundred and nine dollars, as their contribution to the Lady Elgin relief fund.

—The friends and admirers of the Rev. Henry Grattan Guinness of Ireland will be gratified to learn that he is expected to arrive in Boston about the 1st of November, by the steamer Europa, and resume his labors there as an evangelist, and continue his tour through the United States.

—Hon John Minor Botts visited Petersburg, Virginia, and was received by an immense throng of people. A salute of one hundred guns was fired. He delivered a speech. Considering the liberal and conservative views of Mr. Botts, this is a singular sign of the times in the Old Dominion.

—Thaddeus Hyatt has returned to New York from Kansas, and will immediately enter upon a scheme of relief for the destitute settlers there. The most desirable method of relief will be individual loans of twenty to fifty dollars, to be paid in two years with interest.

—A South Carolina slaveholder, who had brought his negro woman, Rena Fields, to New York, where she had discovered her right to freedom and had left him, caused her to be taken before the Court of Sessions, on Saturday, and accused her of theft. The charge was not sustained, and the woman was discharged.

—The Boston Transcript says of Gov. Banks and Mrs. Banks at the Renfrew Ball: "The shabby treatment both of them received by the executive committee is highly censurable. The lady, we learn, was not apprised of the arrangements made in regard to her introduction to the Prince, until after the conclusion of the first dance. His excellency, the highest State official present, and a guest of the committee, was not escorted to the supper room, and the place that he should have occupied there was taken by individuals who hold no office in the State or nation. These facts, as might have been expected, have excited great indignation among high toned gentlemen of all classes. When the correspondence now in progress between the parties to this affair is ended, a new chapter will be added to the literature of impudence."

Special Notices.

☞ Persons afflicted with the fever and Ague should not spare either time, trouble or expense, to procure the HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED BITTERS, whose beneficent effects upon this system has been clearly proved to those who have been wearing down in a short space of time by this dreadful scourge, whose cheeks are wan and meagre, and whose nights are sleepless and restless, and whose eyes are dim and sunken, with death staring them in the face, this compound must prove a blessing; snatching them, as it were, from the mouth of the grave. None can know its true value until they have tested it. When all others have failed, these Bitters have restored the sufferers to pristine health. Their popularity in all the Western and Southern parts should introduce them to all families.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally everywhere. oc25-d2w

☞ Those who are curious to witness the wonderful perfection to which A. Oldwald, (late manager at Batchelor's, N. Y.) has brought the manufacture of Wigs and Toupees, are invited to visit his Wig and Hair Dying Rooms, at No. 160 Lake street, and examine these curious productions of art. No ordinary eye can detect the artificial from the natural, when adjusted to the head.

☞ Greeley's Bourbon Bitters. —These popular BITTERS possess all the nourishing and invigorating properties of PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKY, and are considered the most efficacious TONIC and STIMULANT, as well as the most agreeable AROMATIC, ever offered to the public. As a Tonic for Old People, delicate Ladies, convalescent invalids, and all weakly people, they cannot be surpassed; in all cases of Weakness or Debility, they will give immediate relief, and impart a strong, healthy tone to the system. A trial will establish their merits over all other Tonics now in use. For LUNG COMPLAINTS, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DISEASES AND LIVER COMPLAINTS, they are an invaluable Remedy; and are a certain preventative of CHILLS and FEVERS.

Put up in Quart Bottles, in cases of one and two dozen, and for sale by Druggists and Grocers everywhere.

Medicines, &c.

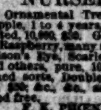

PURIFY THE BLOOD.
Moffat's Vegetable Life Pills,
AND PHŒNIX BITTERS.
The high and envied celebrity which these pre-eminent Medicines have acquired for their invaluable efficacy in all the diseases which they profess to cure, has rendered the usual practice of puffing not only unnecessary, but unworthy of them.
IN ALL CASES
Of Asthma, Acute and Chronic Rheumatism, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys,
Billious Fevers, and Liver Complaints,
In the South and West, where these diseases prevail, they will be found invaluable. Planters, Farmers and others, who once use these medicines, will never afterwards be without them.
Bilious Colic, Serous Looseness, Biles, Costiveness, Colds, Coughs, Colic, Corrupt Humors, Dropsies, Dyspepsia.
No person with these distressing diseases should delay using these medicines immediately.
FEVER AND AGUE.—For this scourge of the Western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease; a cure by these medicines is permanent. Try them. Be satisfied and be cured.
Foulness of the Complexion, General Debility, Gout, Giddiness, Gravel, Headaches of every kind, Inward Fever, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Impure Blood Jaundice, Loss of Appetite, Eruptions of the Skin, Erysipelas and Flatulency.
MERCURIAL DISEASES.—Never fail to eradicate entirely all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparation of Sarsaparilla. Night Sweats, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Organic Affections.
PILES.—The original proprietor of these Medicines was cured of Piles of 35 years' standing by the use of these Life Medicines alone. Pains in the Head, Side, Back, Joints and Organs.
RHEUMATISM.—Those afflicted with this terrible disease will be sure of relief by the Life Medicines. Rush of Blood to the Head, Scurvy, Salt Rheum, Swellings, Scrofula, or King's Evil in its worst forms. Ulcers of every description. Worms of all kinds are effectually expelled by these Medicines. Parents will do well to administer them whenever their existence is suspected. Relief will be certain.
THE LIFE PILLS AND PHŒNIX BITTERS
Purify the Blood, and thus remove all disease from the system. Prepared and sold by Dr. Wm. B. Moffat,
335 Broadway, cor. of Anthony street, New York.
☞ For sale by all Druggists. [au29'60-1y

GENERAL JACKSON'S WIFE.
Her Last Hours—Her Tomb.

The new volume of Mr. Parton's "Life of Andrew Jackson" has the following account of the death of the General's wife:

On Monday evening, the evening before the twenty-third, her disease appeared to take a decided turn for the better; and she then so earnestly entreated the General to prepare for the fatigues of the morrow by having a night of undisturbed sleep, that he consented, at last, to go into an adjoining room and lie down upon a sofa. The doctor was still in the house. Hannah and George were to sit up with their mistress. At nine o'clock the General bade her good night, went into the next room, and took off his coat, preparatory to lying down. He had been gone about five minutes; Mrs. Jackson was then, for the first time, removed from her bed that it might be re-arranged for the night. While sitting in a chair supported in the arms of Hannah, she uttered a long, loud, inarticulate cry, which was immediately followed by a rattling noise in the throat. Her head fell forward upon Hannah's shoulder. She never spoke nor breathed again.

There was a wild rush into the room of husband, doctor, relatives, friends and servants. The General assisted to lay her upon the bed. "Bleed her!" he cried. No blood flowed from her arm. "Try the temple, doctor." Two drops stained her cap, but no more followed.

It was long before he would believe her dead. He looked eagerly into her face, as if still expecting to see signs of returning life. Her hands and feet grew cold. There could be no doubt, then, and they prepared a table, for laying her out. With a choking voice, the General said:

"Spread four blankets upon it. If she does come to, she will lie so hard upon the table."

He sat all night long in the room by her side, with his face in his hands, "grieving," said Hannah, and occasionally looking into the face, and feeling the heart and pulse of the form so dear to him. Major Lewis, who had been immediately sent for, arrived just before daylight, and found him still there, nearly speechless and wholly inconsolable. He sat in the room nearly all the next day, the picture of despair. It was only with great difficulty that he was persuaded to take a little coffee.

"And this was the way," concluded Hannah, "that old mistus died; and we always say that when we lost her we lost a mistus and a mother too; and more a mother than a mistus. And we say the same of old master; for he was more a father to us than a master, and many's the time we've wished him back again to help us out of our troubles."

The remains of Mrs. Jackson still lie in the corner of the Hermitage garden, next those of her husband, in a tomb prepared by him in these years for their reception. It resembles in appearance an open summer house—a small white dome supported by pillars of white marble. The table that covers the remains of Mrs. Jackson, reads as follows:

"Here lie the remains of Mrs. Rachel Jackson, wife of President Jackson, who died the 22d of December, 1828, aged 61. Her face was fair; her person pleasing, her temper amiable, her heart kind; she delighted in relieving the wants of her fellow-creatures, and cultivated that divine pleasure by the most liberal and unpretending methods; to the poor she was a benefactor; to the rich an example; to the wretched a comforter; to the prosperous an ornament; her piety went hand in hand with her benevolence, and she thanked her Creator for being permitted to do good. A being so gentle and so virtuous, slander might wound but could not dishonor. Even death, when he tore her from the arms of her husband, could but transport her to the bosom of her God."

How Pictures are Bought in Italy.
[From the Atlantic Monthly.]

Honest dealing exists in Italy, as elsewhere, and there are men whose statements may safely be received. But let the purchaser be careful when led into out-of-the-way places to see newly found originals, and be slow to give heed to stories of churches being permitted to sell this or that work of art because they have a facade to repair or an altar to decorate—and particularly if there be said anything of an inheritance to divide, or a sad tale of family distress requiring the sacrifice of long cherished treasures, backed up by a well gotten up pantomine of unlocking and lockings, passages through mysterious corridors and vast halls, cautious showings amid a crowd of family retainers or a retinue of monks. Sometimes the most wary is thus seduced into offering tenfold its worth for a common object thus seen by a carefully arranged light and with artificial surroundings.

Many good pictures are still to be had in Italy, if properly approached by those who know thoroughly the habits of the country. There are, however, but two means of procuring them—either to pay their full value, as fixed by rival collectors, or to secure them by fortuitous circumstances for trifling sums. The extraordinary chances of discovery, and the extreme variations of price attending this pursuit, are curious and instructive. A few examples are worth relating: In 1856, a small picture, by Niccolo d'Alunno, was sold in Florence by an artist to a dealer for forty dollars; in a few weeks resold to an Englishman for five hundred dollars. The "Leda" of Leonardo, repainted from motives of prudery by the great grandfather of Louis Phillippe, was bought at the sale of that ex-king's pictures in Paris, in 1849, for thirty dollars, restored to its primitive condition, and sold, we are informed, for one hundred thousand francs.

Ten years ago, an Angel, by the same artist, was found in the old clothes market at Florence by an artist, bought for a few pence, cleaned and sold to Prince Galitzin for twenty two thousand francs. The "Fortune" of Michael Angelo, or what was supposed to be, not long since was discovered in the same locality in a disastrous condition, secured for a few shillings, put in such order as was possible, and parted with to a French gentleman for three hundred dollars, and a pension of one dollar a day during the lives of the seller and his son. Quite recently one of Correggio's most beautiful works was discovered under the canvas of a worthless picture acquired at a public auction at Rome for a few dimes, at the sale by a princely family of discarded pictures, and resold by its fortunate discoverer for fifteen thousand dollars, although the original proprietor instituted a suit against him for its recovery, but without success. In Florence, within three years past, a fine portrait, by Titian, of the Doge Andrea Gritti, was picked out from a large lot of worthless canvases for six dollars. The Madonna del Gran Duca, at the Pitti, was bought by the father of the late Grand Duke, with some other pictures, of a widow, for a few dollars. Instances like these might be multiplied to show that in all times prizes do strangely and unexpectedly occur, and that pictures in their fortunes resemble their authors, often passing from extreme poverty into princely homes.

The changes in the money value placed upon the same works in different epochs are also curious. Indeed, a history of the caprices of art would be vastly entertaining. In 1740, at the sale in Paris of M. Crozat's collection, a drawing by Raphael brought only ten francs. The same drawing, at the sale of the King of Holland's gallery, in 1850, fetched fourteen thousand francs. For the "Ezekiel," Raphael in 1510 had but eight scudi d'oro, equivalent now to thirty dollars. At present, it would bring a fabulous sum, if sold. Within the memory of those now living, gold background pictures of the school of Giotto and his successors, owing to the contempt the pseudo classical French taste had excited for them, were brought out of suppressed churches and convents and publicly burned, to obtain the trifling amount of gold which remained in the ashes. Amateurs are now more inclined to pay their weight in gold for such as have escaped the ravages of time and Vandalism; and the same Government that permitted this destruction, in 1859 passed stringent decrees to prevent their leaving the country, sequestering all in public buildings as national property.

A SNAKE IN AN EDITOR'S BED.—"Monday night last, after retiring," says the Rappahannock (Va.) Southerner, "we were aroused by feeling something moving in our bed, apparently between the sheet and the ticking. Thinking it to be a mouse, we arose, lighted a candle and commenced examining the bed, and much to our surprise, horror and disgust, we perceived a hooded adder glide from the bedding and disappear mysteriously. Tuesday afternoon, while sitting in our sanctum, we heard the venomous reptile in a waste paper box, and with some trouble and great danger we succeeded in rousing him from his quarters and quickly despatching him. His snakeship measured three feet eight inches in length, and four inches in diameter, and had we been bitten, death would have ensued in a few hours. This is no 'snake story;' the curious can see the reptile hanging up in our office."

SLAVES EMANCIPATED.—The Paris (Ky.) Citizen says: Mr. Noah Spear left here the other day, for Xenia, Ohio, taking with him a family of valuable negroes, consisting of a man, his wife and two children, whom he has emancipated and handsomely provided for. He purchased them an excellent farm at a cost of nearly fifty dollars an acre, gave them a wagon and pair of mules, a large quantity of provisions, etc. The man's name is Edom; he is an industrious, sober man, who will do better, when thrown upon his own resources, than most of his class. This is the second lot of negroes Mr. Spear has taken to the same place.

VAN NORMAN INSTITUTE,
A FRENCH AND ENGLISH BOARDING SCHOOL
FOR YOUNG LADIES.
Nos. 3 and 5, West Thirty-Eighth Street, Murray Hill, two doors from Fifth Avenue, New York, continues in session till the latter part of June, and receives pupils at any time. The building, erected expressly for the School, and warmed by hot water, with a pure, summer-like air—is in the highest and most beautiful part of the city.
Physical training constituting a part of the daily course of education, receives the attention which its importance demands. The entire absence of low and depraving incentives to application; the pervading spirit of a pleasant home life, and thoroughness in whatever studies are undertaken, especially characterize the school.
French is spoken. The ablest masters are employed for French, Italian, German, Piano-Forte, Harp, and other accomplishments. Among his friends, most of whom have, or have had, daughters in his school, the principal refers to:
Rev. Robert Baird, D.D., N. Y.; Rev. Gardiner Spring, D. D., N. Y.; Rev. Asa D. Smith, D. D., N. Y.; Rev. Joel Parker, D. D., N. Y.; Rev. Edwin F. Hatfield, D. D., N. Y.; Hon. James Harper, N. Elegantly Illustrated Edition of
COOPER'S NOVELS,
Embellished with Five Hundred Original Drawings,
By F. O. C. DARLEY.
This beautiful edition of Cooper's Works was commenced February 1st, 1859, and will be completed in Thirty-Two Months from that date, a volume containing a novel complete, being published on the first of each month. The volumes are uniform in size and binding, and each contains Two Engravings on Steel, and Twelve Sketches on Wood, designed by Darley, expressly for this edition, and engraved by the First Artists of the Country.

THE SERIES EMBRACES:

The Pioneers,	Home as Found,
Red Rover,	The Pathfinder,
Last of the Mohicans,	Wing and Wing,
The Spy,	The Chainbearer,
Wyandotte,	Jack Tier,
The Bravo,	The Redskins,
The Pilot,	Oak Openings,
Wept of Wish-ton-Wish,	The Two Admirals,
The Headsman,	The Deerslayer,
The Prairie,	Mercedes of Castile,
Lionel Lincoln,	The Crater,
The Sea Lions,	The Heidenmauer,
The Water Witch,	Afloat and Ashore,
Homeward Bound,	Miles Wallingford,
The Monikins,	The Ways of the Hour,
Satanstoe,	Precaution.

The first twenty-two Volumes are issued in the above order; the remainder will follow the same arrangement as nearly as possible. As a National Enterprise, the publication of this edition exceeds, both in magnitude and importance, anything of the kind before undertaken in the country. Cooper has been justly styled "The Great American Novelist," and the Publishers believe they have not mistaken the tastes of his countrymen in offering them this complete and elegant edition of his works. Publishing by subscription, at $1.50 per volume. The volumes can be obtained of W. B. Keen, and S. C. Griggs & Co. Chicago and from Booksellers in all the principal cities, or the publishers will send them by mail, postage prepaid, for $1.50 each.

DARLEY'S COOPER VIGNETTES
At the suggestion of numerous Artists and Amateurs the Publishers have taken a limited number of "Artist Proofs before letter," of each of the beautiful Steel Vignettes, engraved from Darley's Designs for the New Illustrated Edition of Cooper's Works. These they are about issuing in folios, each containing eight proofs, and each proof accompanied with a page of letter-press descriptive of the picture. The proofs are being printed with the utmost care, on India, and backed on the finest French Plate Paper. Each folio will be in a cover of highly ornamental design, printed in tint. Folios One, Two, Three and Four are now ready for Subscribers, and the remaining Four will follow in a few months. Price to Subscribers—three dollars per folio. As the proofs are limited to a small number, (only 500 impressions from each plate) after which the plates are lettered, so that no more can be taken, no subscription will be received except for the full set.

DUPRAT'S POLISH AND French Black Varnish.
PATENTED APRIL 10th, 1860.
This superior Varnish has been approved by the chemists of Washington as being the best article of the kind ever invented for varnishing Boots, Harness, Military Accoutrements, &c., giving them a beautiful lustre without injuring the leather in the least; but on the contrary, the oily substance of which the Varnish is composed renders it pliable and soft. Boots, Harness, &c., after being varnished can be washed in water without injury to the lustre. It can also be handled without soiling the hands. This Varnish is also good for Metals—Brass, Iron, Tin, &c. One application making them a beautiful black and giving them a splendid lustre, preserving them also from rust. It is invaluable for iron door buttons, &c. The Varnish dries in less than three minutes, therefore preventing the dust from accumulating, while wet; it can also be used by manufacturers of umbrellas, canes, turners of wood, &c., as it has the gift of giving the wood a permanent black and lustre at the same time. This Varnish is never sticky, even in the warmest climate. It can also be employed to advantage for the hoofs of horses, giving them a beautiful polish, and preventing the mud from fastening to the hoof.

HOWE'S

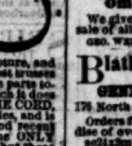

Improved Standard
SCALES.
They are made only at Brandon, Vermont, by JOHN HOWE, Jr., and STRONG & ROSS,
THE INVENTORS,
And all others represented as Howe's are mere Imitations, of which purchasers should beware.
They are extremely simple in construction, are made of the very best materials, by experienced and intelligent workmen, under the supervision of the inventors.
They are made of all sizes and capacities, adapted to all the required uses, embracing more than a hundred different modifications.
They are made to set without a pit, which, in a prairie country, is very desirable.
They are made without lateral stay rods—the shock when loads are placed upon the platform, are prevented from wearing upon the knife edges by the introduction of chilled iron balls which vary in number and size from four to fifty, according to the capacity of the scale.
There are no steel plates resting upon knife edges, and constantly wearing against each other, as in all other scales, but the knife edge and the bearings thereon remain perfectly quiet, thereby preventing any friction.
These Scales will weigh with exactness when out of level, as can be seen in Scales set up in our warehouse; this is the case with no other Scales ever yet made.
They have taken first premiums wherever exhibited, and what is of great practical value, they are now being introduced in place of the manufactures of old inventors.
They are fully warranted not only strong and accurate, but durable, and the manufacturers who are permanently established and fully responsible will always be prompt to make this warranty good.
They can be put up or taken down by purchasers without the assistance of a mechanic, by printed instructions accompanying each scale, and can consequently be furnished at a lower price than Scales that require a competent mechanic to put them up.
They have taken

RUPTURES CURED
BY THE
HARD RUBBER RIGGS TRUSS.

This Truss is unlike all others ever used, both in construction and material. Does not constantly press on the rupture, and thereby give a call for a Truss for life, like most trusses in use, but presses in four places, bringing the parts together, giving nature a chance to cure, which is done in nearly all cases. Does not press UPON THE CORD, or obstruct circulation; never soils or corodes, and is always clean and new. Young persons and recent cases always cured. Physicians say it is the ONLY PHILOSOPHICAL TRUSS IN USE. None but those who have suffered with the misery of rupture can appreciate the value of the "Riggs Truss." MONDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1860.

MONETARY.

FRIDAY EVENING, Oct. 27.

The offerings of Eastern exchange to-day were again light, and the market was very firm, with a good demand at ¼@1 ℘ cent. prem. Currency was in but limited demand, and discounts were easy.

CINCINNATI MONEY MARKET, Oct. 26.—The Gazette thus reviews the money market:

The money market is without change, the demand varying somewhat from day to day with the different houses, but keeping, in the aggregate, within limits that render it an easy matter for bankers to take all the good paper offered. Rates of interest range from 10@12 ℘ cent.

There is a fair demand for Eastern exchange, and rates are steady at our quotations. Most of the New Orleans sight on the market was taken to-day at ¼ prem. Time bills rule at 9@12 for New Orleans, and 10 ℘ cent. for Eastern. Gold in moderate request.

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.—The N. Y. Herald of yesterday, contains the following:

There is no change in the money market. Some of the brokers are returning the money they borrowed at six, but six is still the general rate. Good paper is wanted at the discount houses at six@6½ for short, and 7@7½ for long.

Foreign exchange continues to droop. The rate today for bankers' bills is about 108¾@108⅞ for sterling, and 5.17½@5.18¾ for francs. We hear of some first rate Southern bills with city endorsement going at 5.20, and some very fair produce bills at 107¾. At this rate specie can almost be imported from Europe. The Saturday's steamer will probably take out something like $300,000 gold, and perhaps $300,000 in silver.

NEW YORK EXPORTS.—Exports of domestic produce (exclusive of specie) from New York to foreign ports for the week ending Oct. 22, 1860. The following are the ports to which shipments were made:

Danish West Indies	$22,565

The weather to-day was wet and disagreeable, and business was less active. The Wheat market, under the influence of a decline in freights, was firmer, but not quotably higher. About 90,000 bushels changed hands, at 83@84c for Northwestern Club; 81@81½c for No. 1 Spring; 78@78½c for No. 2 Spring; and 79@72c for Rejected. The Flour market was heavy and fully 5c lower, with sales of about 1,200 bbls, at $4.30@4.33 for medium to fair Spring extras. Corn was in good demand, especially for No. 1, which advanced ¼@⅜c; but No. 2 was rather quiet at previous figures. About 35,000 bushels were sold, mostly to shippers, at 34@34½c for No. 2 Canal afloat; 33½c for old and new mixed afloat; 35@35¾c for No. 1 in store; 33¾c for No. 2; 30c for old Rejected; and 28c for new Rejected. Oats were more active and steady, with sales of 39,000 bushels at 17c for No. 1 in store and 18½c afloat. Rye was dull and 1c lower—sales ranging from 48 to 49c. Barley was dull and neglected. Highwines dull, with sales of city manufactured in small lots at 19c. Timothy Seed quiet at $2.40½@2.25. Hides firm.

Beef Cattle were less active, but prices are unchanged—$2.25@2.75 being the range of prices for packing stock, and $3.00 for good shipping cattle. Hogs were in good demand and 12½c higher.

Freights were dull and 1@1½c lower. Two propellers and two vessels were engaged at 15@15½c for corn and 15½@16c for wheat to Buffalo. Two propellers were also engaged to arrive at 15c for wheat. The current rate to-day at Milwaukee was 17c—at which rate 14 vessels were reported engaged.

BELL CRANBERRIES.—Mr. Edward Sackett, 186½ South Water street, has exhibited on 'Change during the past week or ten days samples of a very large cranberry, which he denominates the "Bell Cranberry." They are from his marsh in Northern Wisconsin, on the Fox River; and they are altogether the finest specimen of cranberry ever sold in this market. They are solid and hard, and take double the quantity of water when cooked than the ordinary kind; and for shipment or the city trade they are a very desirable article. The sales during the past few days have been at $9.00 ℘ brl., at which price he is prepared to fill orders.

OCEAN FREIGHTS AT NEW YORK—Oct. 25.—In freights rates are firmer. To Liverpool: 300 bales cotton at 11-32d; 2,000 boxes cheese at 45s; 3,800 brls flour at 3s 3d; 86,000 bu wheat at 12¼@12¾d, in bags; 56,000 bu corn at 11½@12d, in bulk, and 150 tons copper at 17s 6d. To London: 6,000 bu wheat at 13½d, in bags; 1,500 brls flour at 3s 9d, and 200 bales hops at ⅝d. To Bremen: 200 bales tobacco at 25s; 200 brls shoe pegs at 3s 7d. A brig of 18,000 bu capacity to Cork and a market, with wheat at 14d, in bulk.

CRAGIN & CO.'S PACKING HOUSE.—The correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer gives the following description of a visit to one of our packing houses:

Carriages were provided, and the order of the day was given—to examine the great beef and pork killing and packing establishments for which the city is famous, and from which it derives a great part of its prosperity. Although there are a large number of firms engaged in this business, as an example it is convenient to take the largest—that of Cragin & Co., which is claimed to be the most extensive of the kind, as regards the packing of beef, in the whole world.

Last year 25,700 head of cattle were slaughtered and packed away by this firm, as well as 24,000 hogs. This year that amount of beef will be exceeded and that of pork more than doubled. The capacity is for 400 bullocks per day and 2,000 hogs. The business is estimated at $2,000,000 annually. The main building is 110 by 214 feet—only 140 hands being employed, as steam does all the work. Last year this firm shipped 61,000 barrels and tierces, and altogether 100,000 packages. About five minutes ensues between the cutting of a bullocks throat and the taking off of his head—which are almost simultaneously—and his being hung up, skinned and dressed. The celerity and completeness of the operation are, indeed, astonishing. Cincinnati is probably greater on the hog question, but probably no place can rival Chicago in beef.

Alfred Nye, of this county, raised this year upon 80 acres of land—

3000 bushels wheat, worth 75c	...	$2,250.00
500 " potatoes, "	...	75.00
40 " "	...	20.00
350 " onions "	...	157.00
		$2,502.50

The prices above are what he obtained net for his produce.

THE RED RIVER TRADE.—The St. Paul Pioneer of the 23d inst. contains the following:

Thirty-nine of Burbank's ox teams, laden with buffalo robes, reached this city yesterday morning, from Georgetown, on the Red River of the North. These are but a small part of the caravan which left Georgetown twenty days ago—from 50 to 75 stopping at St. Cloud, on the Upper Mississippi (above the Falls). Yesterday afternoon the teams started on their return trip, the wagons all loaded with goods for the Red River settlement, and taking up some 50 or 60 tons of goods for the Hudson Bay Company. The teams at St. Cloud will load at that point, the goods being conveyed from this city to St. Anthony, thence by steamer transport to St. Cloud. The goods will be conveyed to Georgetown this fall, to await shipment there to Fort Garry, on the opening of navigation on the Red River next spring. Upwards of 300 tons of goods have been forwarded by Burbank & Co. to the Red River during the past season.

PORK PACKING AT LAFAYETTE.—The Lafayette Journal of the 25th says:

Messrs. Telford & Co. are making thorough arrangements for the coming season. Their agents have scoured various counties in this State and Illinois, and the aggregate number packed up on the Wabash, at this and other points, will doubtless exceed that of any previous year.

RECEIPTS OF GRAIN AT GENESEO STATION.—The Geneseo Republic contains the following:

Amount of grain, &c., received and shipped at this station from the 15th to the 20th of October inclusive:

Wheat, bu	12,000
Corn, bu	400
Flour, bbls	70
Stock, cars	4
Broom Corn, cars	4
Onions, cars	1

SHIPMENTS OF WHEAT FROM CALIFORNIA TO NEW YORK.—The N. Y. Shipping List of the 24th, says:

A noticeable feature of almost every news bulletin from California, is the departure of vessels for Atlantic ports with cargoes of grain. The Hornet, which cleared from San Francisco on the 9th inst., has 21,000 sacks of wheat. If the owners of that wheat are not convinced of the unprofitableness of sending coals to Newcastle, their views in that matter may possibly undergo a material modification, when three or four months after date, the article reaches this market—provided, meanwhile, prices in England do not go higher than present quotations.

THE PROSPECT FOR HOGS.—The Cincinnati Commercial of yesterday contains the following:

The indifference exhibited by most of the dealers, for a day or two past, about contracting for hogs, has produced some reserve on the part of those who have them to offer, and there is but little to notice in the trade. There were a few sales made, amongst which was a lot of 750 head, 210 lbs average, on private terms. There is a pretty general disposition to await the opening of the season and take the market as it comes. It would certainly appear that packers could not fare any the worse for such a step, for it does not seem to be at all reasonable to suppose that hogs will be wanting in quantity or in quality when suitable weather for packing comes. If they are likely to be attracted to other points by the offer of high prices, or other circumstances, it seems to be difficult to show why men should pay prices for them here which experience will not warrant them in offering merely for the purpose of getting them to pack at this point. The hogs that are fatted will of course be packed into meat, and the meat will as surely have to be sold, and it is often quite as profitable to operate in the cured article, as it is to run the risk of caring, in addition to paying extraordinary prices for the "uncut packages." It seems very probable that other points about us, in order to secure such stock as they may require, have paid high prices to such an extent as to array a large part of the high price side, and we should not be surprised if some of them so try to play their cards as to endeavor to shove off their high priced hogs on to this market and find it convenient to reduce the amount of their own operations. If what is said about the course of the banks in Kentucky, by those who pretend to be informed about their disposition, as to discounting, is correct, there will be some difficulty for many who have succeeded in "bucking" this market in former years, to effect the necessary negotiations for similar operations this season.

POTATOES AND ONIONS GOING SOUTH.—The Davenport Gazette of yesterday contains the following:

Last evening six flatboats, loaded with potatoes and onions by Messrs. S. Dixon, M. and H. Parmalee, T. McMannigill, Wm. Watson and John Olds, farmers of this county, cleared for Memphis in tow of the steamer Resolute, Capt. Williams, who takes them down for one half of the proceeds. The total cargoes amount to about 9,000 bushels potatoes and 7,000 bushels of onions.

PEACHES.—More than 34,000 bushels of peaches were exported from Rochester this fall. The trade with inland towns and with Canada is not included.

MARKETS BY THE LATEST MAILS.

CINCINNATI MARKET—Oct. 26.—Receipts of corn are light, and prices are firm at 33@35c for new and 40@43c for old. Oats are in moderate request at 30c in bulk. Whisky dull at 16½. Mess pork continues in fair demand, with sales of 350 brls at $17.87@18. Of bacon, 50 hhds shoulders sold at 8⅝c, and 15 hhds rib sides at 11¼c. No change in groceries. Hay is in good demand at $1 higher, with sales of prime timothy at $16 on arrival. Hops sold at 30@35c for new crop. We heard of no transactions in hogs, but prices may be quoted at $6.50 for December, and $6.62@6.75 for November.

BALTIMORE MARKET—Oct. 25.—At Baltimore today the offerings of beef cattle reached 2,000 head, of which number 300 were driven to Philadelphia, 200 to the country, and 500 left over unsold. The balance were taken by Baltimore butchers at prices ranging from $2.50 to $3.75; average price, $3.12¼. A few sold at higher figures. Sales of hogs at from $8.00 to $8.25 ℘ 100 lbs, according to quality. A fair supply of sheep at from $3 to $4 ℘ head. Flour declined 12½c, with sales of 300 brls at $5.62. Coffee firm, but there were no sales, owing to small stock. More doing in bacon, with sales of 75 hhds sides at 11⅞c, and 30 hhds shoulders at 9⅝c to go out of market, and 30 hhds shoulders and sides at 9¾c for the former, and 11¾c for the latter. No sales of bulk meat; shoulders 8¾c, and sides 10½c. Barrel pork scarce and prices have advanced, with sales of 100 brls prime at $15.25. Mess is worth $19.50, and rump $13@13½c for Western in brls and tierces, and 13¼@13½c in kegs; sales 100 tierces rice at 4⅛c. Whisky dull at 21¼@22c for Ohio.

PHILADELPHIA MARKET, Oct. 25.—FLOUR—Quiet at $5.75@5.87½. GRAIN—Wheat: Sales of 3,000 bu red $1.30@1.38; white $1.42@1.50. Corn active at 73@73½c. Coffee—Rio 13½@15½c; Laguayra 15c. Whisky—Steady at 21½@22½c.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET, Oct. 25.—Sugar steady at 7¾@8¼c. Molasses 42@44c. Flour quiet at $5.80 for superfine. Corn 70@73c. Mess Pork dull at $18.

TORONTO MARKET, Oct. 25.—Spring Wheat continues in good demand and prices remain steady. Ordinary to good samples are quoted at $1.05@1.08, and golden drop is sought for at $1.10@1.12½ ℘ bushel. Barley has fluctuated slightly during the week, but under the influence of a good demand and only moderate deliveries, the market closes firm at 60@65c and sometimes 67c ℘ bu—the latter being, however, a very extreme rate. The favorite figure for ordinary samples is 63c ℘ bushel. Oats are in moderate supply, with a steady demand. Prices have been and remain very firm at 28@30c ℘ bushel.

SEEDS IN PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Cloverseed continues in demand, but there is very little offering; sales of 300 bushels fair and prime quality at $5.87½@6.12½ ℘ 64 lbs. Timothy is dull at $2.62½@2.75, and Flaxseed at $1.62 ℘ bu.

FREIGHTS AT TORONTO, Oct. 25.—The lake freights continue to advance. Yesterday, and the day previous, 40c ℘ bbl was paid for flour to Montreal, by steamers, and 12c ℘ bu for wheat. To Oswego, wheat cannot be sent less than 5c, and, in some cases, 5½c have been paid. The increase in the scale of freight, the difficulty of getting forward produce at any point, and a slight reactionary feeling in New York during the past few days, have depressed our market somewhat, and the week closes with the first symptoms of decline observed for nearly three weeks.

Miscellaneous.

LOSS OF LIFE ON LAKE ONTARIO.—The Rochester Advertiser says: On Wednesday morning last, when the north-easter was prevailing, Capt. Nelligan, of the propeller Proctor, was lost on Lake Ontario by being washed overboard. The Proctor was on her way from Oswego to Hamilton when the gale came on, and the sea swept her decks and took the Captain off. Nothing could be done by the crew to save him, as it was dark, and the sea was running too high to permit the lowering of a boat. Capt. N. was a resident of Hamilton, and leaves a family there we believe. He was an old sailor, and a skillful one, and was much esteemed by those who knew him.

VESSEL SCUTTLED.—The schooner Mary Williams caught fire on Tuesday morning about seven miles above Cleveland. While all hands were at breakfast in the cabin, the bulkhead in the forecastle got on fire from the stove, and the flames soon spread. It was a position of danger both to the vessel and her cargo, which was lumber, and Capt. G. with judgment and coolness ordered her scuttled. The steam tug Beamis being hailed came to her relief and towed her in. None of the cargo was lost, and the damage she has sustained by the hole cut in her, can be made good at but moderate expense.—[Detroit Tribune.

GOT OFF.—The schooner Grace Murray was got off by the Reindeer, Capt. Keeler, yesterday at 6 o'clock in the morning. She was lightened of four scow loads of coal, and jettisoned some fifteen or twenty tons. No perceptible damage was sustained except a slight leak, but it was judged prudent to return to Cleveland for repairs.—[Ibid.

WRECKED.—The schooner W. A. Adair, bound to Buffalo from Erie, put back, leaking, to Dunkirk, and was run ashore to prevent her sinking; she has since gone to pieces.—[Ibid.

FROM BOSTON.—The schooner G. W. Holt, Capt. Hanson, arrived here this morning from Boston, which port she left Sept. 5th. The Holt touched at Quebec on the 26th, and on the 29th discharged 475 hhds molasses and 42 hhds sugar at Montreal. She brings 5,000 bu Turk's Island salt, for Messrs. Bishop & Trowbridge, which is being discharged at their packing house, to be used by them in packing pork the coming winter. The Holt met with a detention at the canal, of three days, and the time required in discharging freight at Montreal; making her running time 48 days.—[Toledo Blade, 23d.

MARRIED.

In Worcester, Mass, on the 23th inst., by Rev. J. W. Allen, of Chesterfield, assisted by the Rev. Merrill Richardson of Worcester, WM. H. Rice, of the firm of Watson V. Coe, & Co., Chicago, Ill., and MARY MERRILL, daughter of J. C. Morse, Esq., of Worcester.

Prof. Wood's RESTORATIVE CORDIAL AND BLOOD RENOVATOR

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL AND BLOOD RENOVATOR

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste it is revivifying, exhilarating and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted to, AS TO ACT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF NATURE, AND HENCE SOOTHE THE WEAKEST STOMACH, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor suffering humanity is constantly liable. Such for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypocondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called FEMALE WEAKNESS and IRREGULARITIES. Also, Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pains in the Back, Side and between the Shoulders, Predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks arising from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts directly and persistently upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all should take a tablespoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers, and literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much outdoor exercise should always use it. If they would find an agreeable, pleasant and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. THERE IS NO MISTAKE ABOUT IT. THIS CORDIAL IS ALL WE CLAIM FOR IT. MOTHERS, TRY IT! And to you we appeal to detect the illness not only of your daughters before it is too late, but also of your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need.

Matters in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Silas Holmes, one of the oldest and wealthiest ship-owners of this city, died yesterday, at East Greenwich, Rhode Island.

Counterfeit fives on the East River Bank, New York, were attempted to be put in circulation yesterday; photographs, and badly executed.

The City of Manchester took $150,000 in specie.

Mr. J. Van Schaack announced to the Board of Brokers that he should be unable to meet his engagements, at the same time offering to settle his contracts at to-day's prices, or at maturity, as preferred. A large number of contracts have been settled, and the trouble is supposed to be temporary, as his clients are strong. The market has been deranged by this suspension, and closes unsettled.

Hon. A. H. Stephens of Georgia Abandons Douglas.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—The Evening Bulletin has information explanatory why Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, of Georgia, failed to meet his engagements at Centralia and elsewhere. It says:

"The recent elections have satisfied him that Douglas will not get the electoral vote of a single State; that there is imminent danger that Lincoln will be elected; and that it becomes the duty of every Southern man in the presence of the dangers which stare him in the face, to forego his personal preferences, and to use every effort to combine the South, as a band of brothers, in support of that candidate who is not only evidently the most popular, but who is at the same time the most earnest defender of the rights of the South and of the States; and that, believing that Mr. Breckinridge is that man, he hopes that the people of Georgia will give him their unanimous vote."

News from Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—The British schooner Hummingbird, Capt. Callahan, from Labrador for Halifax, was wrecked on the 7th inst. off Anti Costa. The captain, steward and one seaman were drowned. The other four were saved, two on a raft, and two were picked from the wreck, having been six days without food or drink.

J. C. Adams, of grizzly bear notoriety, died at Neponset this morning.

At Pictou, N. S., on the 12th inst., Abraham Peterson and his wife were murdered in their house and the house fired by robbers.

From Havana.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 26.—The steamship Isabel, from Havana 23d, has arrived. The sugar market was unchanged; the crops were promising.

NOTICE.—CHICAGO WATER WORKS. All owners or occupants of buildings supplied with water by the Chicago City Hydraulic Company, are hereby notified that the second semi-annual payment of the year commencing May 1st, 1860, and ending May 1st, 1861, will be due and payable on the 1st of November next, at the Water Commissioner's Office, corner of Lake and La Salle Streets, room No. 4 over Marine Bank. The payment herein declared to be due on the 1st of November next is for use of water for the half year commencing with that day and ending May 1st, 1861. Owners or occupants of buildings which are situated on lots adjoining any street, avenue or alley, through which the distributing water pipes are laid, will take notice, that the second semi-annual payment for the assessment for the year commencing May 1st, 1860, and ending May 1st, 1861, will be due and payable at the same time and place. By order of the Board, A. W. TINKHAM, Sec'y. Water Commissioner's Office, Oct. 20, 1860. [oc22d306-10t

VERY IMPORTANT INFORMATION.—The Illinois Starch Company, at Ottawa, are now manufacturing the Purest Starch in the world. In body, quality and whiteness it cannot be excelled, and being manufactured entirely with spring water, which is naturally soft as rain water, it contains no nefarious chemical, hence it is infinitely more desirable for family use, laundry purposes than any other in use. As an assurance to the public of the merits of the Starch, any amount of the most satisfactory references could be given, but in this case reference seem to be unnecessary, as all, by procuring a little for trial, can satisfy themselves. In buying the Starch be particular in seeing that it is taken from boxes marked ILLINOIS STARCH COMPANY, McGINNIS, MAKER. To Wholesale Dealers, the Company would say with our unequalled facility for manufacturing, and the very great advantage we have over all other factories of purchasing corn at low prices, we can sell you at figures that will make it to your interest to send us your orders. Every box of Starch that leaves the factory is warranted equal if not superior to any produced in the world, according to quality. All communications addressed "Illinois Starch Company, Ottawa, Illinois," will receive prompt attention. [je21 d24-6m

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.—Joint Resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Illinois, adopted February 2, 1860: "Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives, that the electors of the State of Illinois be, and they are hereby, recommended, at the next election of members of the General Assembly, to vote for or against calling a Convention to form a New Constitution for the State of Illinois." This resolution was passed under the following provision of the Constitution of this State: ARTICLE XII. Sec. 1.—"Whenever two-thirds of all the members elected to each branch of the General Assembly shall think it necessary to alter or amend this Constitution, they shall recommend to the electors at the next election of members of the General Assembly, to vote for or against a Convention, and if it shall appear that a majority of all the electors of the State voting for Representatives have voted for a Convention, the General Assembly shall, at their next session, call a Convention," &c. It will be seen that it is necessary that all who are in favor of this important measure should vote for it, as voting for members of the Legislature, and not voting at all on this, counts as a vote against it. It is, therefore, desirable that the tickets of all political parties be printed with the words "For a Convention" at the foot of them, and then the voter, if opposed to a Convention, can tear it off, and so vote against it. Spalding's Prepared Glue! "A Stitch in Time saves Nine." ECONOMY! Dispatch! Save the Pieces!

AS ACCIDENTS WILL HAPPEN EVEN IN WELL REGULATED FAMILIES, it is very desirable to have some cheap and convenient way for repairing Furniture, Crockery Toys, &c.

SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE meets all emergencies, and no household can afford to be without it. It is always ready and up to the sticking point. There is no longer a necessity for limping chairs, splintered veneers, headless dolls, and broken cradles. It is just the article for cone, shell and other ornamental work, so popular with ladies of refinement and taste.

This admirable preparation is used cold, being chemically held in solution, and possessing all the valuable qualities of the best cabinet-maker's Glue. It may be used in the place of ordinary mucilage, being vastly more adhesive.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.—Whereas Jacob Russell and Mary H. Russell, his wife, both of the city of Chicago and State of Illinois, did execute and deliver to the undersigned their certain indenture of mortgage, bearing date the second day of July, A. D. 1859, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note of even date therewith, given by said Jacob Russell for the sum of Fourteen Thousand Dollars, ($14,000) payable five years after the date thereof, at the City Bank in Boston, Massachusetts, providing that the interest thereon, which should be at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, should be payable at said City Bank, in Boston, semi-annually, to wit: On the second day of January and July each in every year, which said mortgage is recorded in the Recorder's office of Cook county, State of Illinois, in book of mortgages, at page 610, and, whereas, default has been made in the payment of the installment of interest due the second day of January, 1860, and also in the payment of the installment of interest due the second day of July, 1860, and both remain unpaid: Now, therefore, public notice is hereby given, that I, James C. Merrill, Trustee and Mortgagee aforesaid, of the city of Boston and State of Massachusetts, according to the terms of said mortgage, do hereby declare the principal sum secured thereby to be now due, for reason of said default in payment of interest, and that I shall, in pursuance and by virtue of the power and authority in me vested by said mortgage, and for the uses and purposes therein expressed, on Tuesday, the thirteenth day of December, A. D. 1860, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the north door of the Court House, in the city of Chicago, sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, the premises in said mortgage described, to wit: "That piece or parcel of land known and described as lot four (4), in block seventeen (17), in the fractional section fifteen (15), addition to the city of Chicago, being eighty feet (80) front on Michigan avenue and one hundred and eighty feet (180) in depth to the alley in the rear, according to the plan recorded in Cook county Registry, with the dwelling house and other improvements thereon." JAMES C. MERRILL, Trustee, Mortgagee. J. M. PARKER, Attorney. [oc14-d184-td]

MORTGAGE SALE.—Whereas George Hannahs, of Albion, in the State of Michigan, did, on the third day of May, 1858, execute and deliver to the undersigned a certain Indenture of Mortgage to secure the payment of three several promissory Notes of even date with said Mortgage, for the sum of fifteen hundred dollars each, said Notes being payable to Joseph Sibley or order, one sixty days after date, one six months after date, and one in twelve months after date, with interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, which said Mortgage was recorded in the Recorder's office of Jo Daviess county, book B of Mortgages, on pages 299 and 300; and whereas it was provided in the said Mortgage, that in case of default being made in the payment of said promissory Notes, or either of them, either of principal or interest, on the day or days when the same should become due and payable, the said Mortgagee should be immediately empowered to foreclose to pay the same: Now, therefore, default having been made in the payment of said promissory Notes, no part of said indebtedness having been paid, according to the terms of said Mortgage, public notice is hereby given that I, Joseph Sibley, Mortgagee aforesaid, do hereby declare all of said Mortgage money hereinafter claimed to be due by reason of said default in payment, and that I shall, for the purpose of making the money due said Notes, and in accordance with the power in me vested by said Mortgage, on Thursday, October eighteenth, 1860, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, sell at public auction, at the north door of the Court House, in the city of Galena, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described premises, situated in the county of Jo Daviess, in the State of Illinois, and known and described as follows, to wit: The northwest quarter of section thirty-five (35), and the south half of the southwest quarter of section twenty-six (26), and the southeast quarter of section twenty-seven (27), and the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section twenty-seven (27), in town twenty-nine (29) north, of range two (2) east of the fourth principal meridian, being the same premises conveyed to the party of the first part by Carlos Pierce and wife, and all right and equity of redemption of the said George Hannahs, his heirs and assigns. JOSEPH SIBLEY, Mortgagee. S. M. WILSON, Attorney. The above sale is adjourned to Thursday, November 8th, 1860, at the same hour and place. JOSEPH SIBLEY, Mortgagee. ANOTHER RALLY[!]

Last Week of the Campaign.

REPUBLICANS ATTEN[D!]

There will be a good, old-fashioned mee[ting] at the Wigwam this evening. T[he] following speakers of national reputatio[n] will address the people:

JOHN P. HALE,
SENATOR DOOLITTLE,
J. W. NORTH.

Of Mr. HALE we need not say a wor[d]. He has made his reputation in Chicago, an[d] ten thousand will come out to hear him.

Senator DOOLITTLE, of Wisconsin, not so widely known, is just as sound and earnest a man. He has been speaking in New York, and stops here on his way to Peoria, to give the Lincoln boys a talk.

Hon. J. W. NORTH of Minnesota, one of the leading Republicans of that State—an able and popular orator, whom we all wa[nt] to hear.

Now for a rouser! Come, Wide-Awake[s]! Come, everybody. This is last week of th[e] glorious and memorable campaign. Let['s] get in good humor for the great victory!

THE STOCK MARKET.

The political gamblers in the New York stock market have played out their hand, and in spite of the dreary jeremiads of the Herald, the continued effort of the bears and the doleful howls of the alarmists, yesterday saw a decided reaction and an upward tendency of prices. The men of money may be frightened for a day, but gong-beating cannot long be mistaken for genuine thunder even by men of weak nerves. Now, what next?

A Free Homestead Advocate.

Mr. E. SMALLEY, Republican candidate for Supervisor in the Sixth Ward, besides being well qualified for that office, was one of the earliest advocates in the country of the free homestead doctrine. He was a member of the first free homestead league ever organized in New York; and he aided in organizing a similar league in this city as early as 1847. From that day to this he has never failed, either by voice or by vote, in season or out of season, to give the cause a boost onward. Let the friends of free homesteads in the Sixth remember this fact when they go to the polls.
